PREFACE

This book is the outcome of teaching Spanish for several years to different types of pupils. The author's purpose has been to supply a useful book to English-speaking students of Spanish. Usefulness has therefore been the standard in determining the arrangement of the material. The introductory lessons are easy and progressive, assuming little or no general knowledge of grammar and language. They attempt to take advantage of the strength of first impressions; for example, the use of usted is given prominence at the outset so that the pupil will be less likely at a later period to employ tú and the second singular in business correspondence. Other features of the book are, (1) exercises specially designed for drill on peculiarities of grammar that require habit to fix; (2) ample material for oral work; (3) a progressive vocabulary that attempts to include the commonest and hence most important words and phrases with many colloquial expressions that are necessary in social intercourse; (4) an order of development that has been proved of practical value.

In the first few lessons, sentences illustrative of the grammatical topic of the lesson have been given before the explanation, as it is intended that these sentences should be committed to memory before proceeding to the explanation. Special vocabularies to each lesson have been omitted because the preparation of such a special vocabulary is a useful exercise which is too often sacrificed in elementary books.

Part I furnishes an introduction to the chief characteristics of Spanish and is sufficient for a good working knowledge of the language. Part II takes up in systematic order those details of grammar which were neglected or hastily passed over in the first part. As the second part will not be studied until the pupil finds his reading in a continued text, no Spanish exercises are given. On the other hand, abundant material is provided for the translation of English to Spanish. The sentences in these exercises are short, according to the author's principle of presenting to the pupil only a few difficulties at one time with ample practice on the point under discussion. As the English sentences are mainly translations of colloquial or literary Spanish, their rendering by the student should result in characteristically idiomatic expression.

The purpose of the illustrations is to teach pictorially some ideas about Spanish civilization and history in Spain and America. The text accompanying the pictures may be used as translation exercises on which the teacher may base questions in Spanish similar to those suggested. In order that early use may be made of the illustrations, the first questions are framed in simple language. The later pictures are inserted in a historical order so as to give a brief survey of the most important events in Spanish history.

The teacher who desires to use only Spanish in the classroom will find at the end of the book a brief summary in Spanish of the rules discussed in Part I. This will supply not only the proper grammatical terms but also idiomatic language to use when talking about grammar with the pupils.

The author wishes to thank Mr. E. S. Harrison for his suggestions and kindness in reading the manuscript and proof.

SPANISH GRAMMAR

PART I

INTRODUCTION

1. The Alphabet. The Spanish alphabet has thirty different signs.

LETTERS	NAMES		LETTERS	NAMES		LETTERS	NAMES
A	a	a	J	j	jota	R	r	ere
B	b	be	K	k	ka	—	rr	erre
C	c	ce	L	l	ele	S	s	ese
Ch	ch	che	Ll	ll	elle	T	t	te
D	d	de	M	m	eme	U	u	u
E	e	e	N	n	ene	V	v	ve (or u de corazón) (u consonante)
F	f	efe	Ñ	ñ	eñe	W	w	doble u (or ve doble)
G	g	ge	O	o	o	X	x	equis
H	h	(h)ache	P	p	pe	Y	y	y griega (or ye)
I	i	i	Q	q	cu	Z	z	zeta

a. The names of the Spanish letters are feminine: una b larga a long b (that is, b not v).

b. The letters k and w are found chiefly in words adopted from foreign languages; the sound of rr at the beginning of words is represented by r.

2. Vowels. Spanish vowels have approximately the following values:

a as in father; Ana

e as ā in gate; Pepe

i as in machine; Anita, María

o as in note; Manolo, Pedro

u as oo in moon; Tula

a. At the end of a word after a vowel (with a few exceptions), and when standing alone, i is written y: rey, king; y, and.

b. The Spanish sounds of e, o, and u are simple and not diphthongal as frequently in English: e is not like ey in they, o is not like o in no, u is not like u in cube. Learners should try to acquire an accurate pronunciation of the simple sounds without the final glide which characterizes the English vowels.

c. In certain positions, especially before l and r, Spanish e has a more open sound like e of met: papel, paper; tener, to have; ella, she; perro, dog; este, this. The quality of the other vowels varies somewhat according as they stand in an accented syllable or not, but fine distinctions are unnecessary to the learner.

d. The quantity of Spanish vowels is short. The stressed syllable is not prolonged but merely pronounced with greater force.

e. The vowels a e o are called strong; i and u weak.

f. Spoken Spanish contracts two identical vowels into one syllable without lengthening: as, de este = deste, cree = cre, la alta = lalta.

3. Diphthongs. The strong vowels a, e, and o unite with the weak vowels i and u to form one syllable, called a diphthong. The weak vowels also combine with each other. Though each vowel keeps its own sound, the stress falls on the strong vowel, while the weak one is uttered rapidly: of two weak vowels, the last is stressed. The possible combinations are

ai (ay)	Maracaibo , Garay	ia	Santiago , Colombia
au	Cauca , Bautista	ua	Juan , Managua
ei (ey)	Leiro , Caney	ie	Oviedo , Cienfuegos
eu	Ceuta , Europa	ue	Buenos Aires
oi (oy)	oiga , Alcoy	io	Dios , Antonio
ou	Bouzas	uo	cuota , antiguo iu	Liuva , ciudad	ui (uy)	Luis

a. Two strong vowels form distinct syllables: Bil-ba-o, Le-ón, Lis-bo-a, Nar-vá-ez.

b. If two vowels which commonly form a diphthong are pronounced separately, an accent mark is written over the vowel which bears the stress: García, María, Valparaíso, Níobe, oído, fluido, Túy.

4. Triphthongs. A strong vowel between two weak ones forms a combination which is pronounced as one syllable :

iái	fiáis	uai (uay)	La Guaira, Paraguay
iei	fiéis	uei (uey)	acentuéis, buey

5. Consonants. b denotes the same sound as v. It resembles English b only at the beginning of a word and after m or n : bala, también, enviar (pronounce embiar). In other positions b (or v) represents a bilabial sound not consciously used in English. To produce it, bring the lips together as if to pronounce b, but, instead of closing them, allow the breath to issue continuously as in uttering v. Avoid English v, which is produced by allowing the breath to issue between the lower lip and the upper teeth. This sound does not exist in Spanish. Ex. — Bilbao, bilbaíno, bebe. Before s and t, b has the value of p or is silent : oscuro (often spelled oscuro), subterráneo, absoluto.

c represents two sounds :

1. A voiceless spirant, th in thin, before e and i : Cervo, Ponce ; Cid, Cicerón.

2. A voiceless guttural, k, before a, o, u, or another consonant, or when final : Costa Rica, Cuba, Clara, Tepic, lección.

ch is pronounced like English ch in church : Chile, chileno.

d represents the voiced sound of th in though : Toledo, Granada ; but approaches English d at the beginning of words or after l or n : don, saldo, anda. When final, d is usually silent : Madrid, usted ; but some speakers give the voiceless sound of th in thin : sed. Intervocalic d is often silent, especially in the termination ado : Prado = Prao, comprado = comprao.

f is equivalent to English f : Flandes, flamenco.

g denotes two sounds :

1. A voiced guttural, g as in English go, before a, o, u, or another consonant : Galicia, gallego, gusto, grande. To indicate this sound before e or i, a silent u is inserted : Portugal, portugués ; guía.

2. A strong aspirate before e and i, similar to German or Scotch ch in loch but frequently softened to a strong English h (see Spanish j): Génova, genovés, Gibraltar.

h is a silent letter in Castilian Spanish. la Habana, habanero. It is sometimes lightly pronounced before ue: huevo.

j (jota) denotes a strong aspiration, the same as g before e and i: Jalisco, Jérez, Gijón. When final, it is nearly or quite silent: reloj often written reló.

In some words the letter x used formerly to represent this sound, hence México, in Spain now spelled Méjico; Xauxa = Jauja.

k is not a Spanish letter but is used in a few borrowed foreign words with the value of English k: kilo, kodak.

l is equivalent to an English l when pronounced clearly in the forward part of the mouth as in bill: Lisboa, lisbonense.

ll denotes a sound similar to lli in million: Castilla, castellano. At the beginning of a word this sound is difficult for English speakers, who had better practice the vulgarism pronounced like y rather than allow the sound to lapse into a simple l: Llanos, llave, lleno, lluvia, llorar.

m is equivalent to English m: Manila, manileño.

n is more clearly pronounced than English n: Nápoles, napolitano. Before the guttural sounds k and g, before “jota” (j, and g before e and i), and before hue, n becomes the velar nasal represented by ng in thing: blanco, blanquear, ángel, naranja, un huevo. The same value is often given to emphatic monosyllables: ten, pon.

ñ is a sign having a value similar to ni in onion. The Spanish name for the mark over the letter is tilde. España, español.

p is like English p: Panamá, panameño. Before s and t, p is commonly silent: psicología, séptimo, septiembre (usually spelled sétimo and setiembre).

q is used only before ue and ui, with the sound of k: lorqueño (from Lorca), Quito, quiteño. After q the u is silent.

r at the beginning of a word represents the value of rr (see below); but in the middle or at the end of a word it has a reduced value of the same sound, being pronounced with a single flick of the tongue. Care should be taken not to slur the sound at the end of a word but to pronounce it distinctly. Ex. — pero, comprar.

rr is a strong trill with the tip of the tongue, produced just back of the upper teeth: perro, Navarra, navarro, Puerto Rico, portorriqueño.

s initial, between vowels, and final, has the sharp hissing sound of English s, never the value of English z. Compare English president with Spanish presidente, rose with rosa. Before a consonant, and sometimes when final, s tends to be reduced to a breathing and even to become silent: las niñas = lath niñas or la' niñas, más rico = ma' rico, dos = do', mismo = mi'mo. Before d, g, and m in the same word, s sometimes resembles English z: desde, musgo. But students had better pronounce s as a sharp hiss in all positions: Solís, Paso, los rusos.

t is equivalent to English t, but more forcibly pronounced by bringing the tongue close to the upper teeth: Trinidad, trinitario.

v has the same values as b: Valdivia, beber, vivir.

w, used only in foreign proper names, has the foreign value: Washington, Wagner.

x is equivalent to English x pronounced like ks; before consonants, however, the sound tends to become a simple s and is so written in some words: sexto (sesto), excelente. Between vowels x is sometimes given the sound of gs: examen.

y as a vowel, see i. As a consonant y is like English y in yes, though strongly enunciated, not unlike the y in Don't you: yo, Yucatán, yucateco.

z has the sound of English th in thin (see c before e and i), and occurs before a, o, and u, final, and sometimes before another consonant: Zamora, Zorita, Zurbarán, Vera Cruz, Guzmán.

6. Peculiarities. In Spanish America and in parts of Spain the following peculiarities in pronunciation are common.

c before e and i is pronounced like s: conocer, cita, = conoser and sita.

d is silent between vowels: matado = matao, vivido = vivio, nada = na.

ll is like English y or even j in jest: caballo = cabayo or cabajo, llega = yega or jega.

r final is often silent: mujer = mujé.

s is reduced to a breathing or is silent: tres = tre, usted = uté, refresco = refre'co.

z is pronounced like s: Zulia, Díaz.

Dialectical peculiarities that are often heard are bue = güe: bueno = güeno

gua = wa: agua = awa

7. How to Spell certain Consonant Sounds. The following table of spellings for certain consonant sounds before the five vowels and when final will be found useful for reference when forming plurals or derivatives of nouns and in conjugating verbs.

SOUND	a	e	i	o	u	FINAL
th as in thin	za Zamora	ce andaluces	ci Andalucía	zo Arizona	zu Zurita	z andaluz
k	ca Caracas	que caraqueño	qui Turquia	co turco	cu Cuba	c Tepic
g as in go	ga Málaga	gue malagueño	gui Guillermo	go Vigo	gu Guzmán
jota	ja Jamaica	je, ge Jerez, Génova	ji, gi Méjico, Gijón	jo Jorge	ju Julio
gw	gua Guatemala	güe ¹ Mayágüez	güi ¹ Güines	guo antiguo
kw	cua Ecuador	cue Cuenca	cui Cuico	cuo cuota

¹ The sign " over a letter is called a diæresis, and is used in Spanish to indicate that the u of the syllables gue and gui is not silent but pronounced.

8. Accent. One syllable of a Spanish word receives greater emphasis or stress of voice as in English, but without the slurring of other syllables peculiar to English. The accent falls regularly on —

1. The final syllable of words ending in a consonant except n or s: señor, español, usted.

2. The next to the last syllable (the penult) of words ending in a vowel, n, or s: amigo, amigos, venden.

Words accented contrary to this rule have the stress indicated by an acute accent mark: López, ejército, inglés, Guzmán.

NOTE. A word stressed on the final syllable is called in Spanish aguda, on the penult llana, on the antepenult esdrújula.

9. Written Accents. The accent mark is used —

1. To show accentuation not in accord with the general rule: lápiz, rubí, después.

2. To separate a diphthong into its elements: tío, sería, aún.

3. To distinguish the interrogative use of certain pronouns and adverbs: ¿qué? ¿quién? ¿cuánto? ¿cómo? ¿dónde? ¿cuál? and in exclamations: ¡qué! ¡cuánto! ¡cuán!

4. To indicate the pronominal use of the demonstratives éste, ése, and aquél.

5. To discriminate between pairs of words identical in spelling:

de , of (preposition)	dé , give (pres. subj. of dar)
el , the (definite article)	él , he, him (personal pronoun)
mas , but (conjunction)	más , more (adverb)
mi , my (possessive adjective)	mí , me (personal pronoun)
se , self (reflexive pronoun)	sé , I know (1st sing. pres. ind. of saber)
si , if	sí , yes; self (accusative of se , disjunctive form)
solo , alone (adjective)	sólo , only (adverb)
tu , thy (possessive adjective)	tú , thou (personal pronoun)

NOTE. The adverb aun preceding the verb is not marked, because in this case the vowels form a diphthong: but after the verb it is marked because it is pronounced as a word of two syllables with the stress on the final syllable. ¿Aun no ha venido? Has n't he come yet? No ha venido aún. He has not come yet.

a. The preterits dió, vió, fuí, fué bear written accents.

b. The Spanish Academy authorizes the omission of accents from the words a, to; e, and; o, or, except between figures, 3 ó 4; u, or.

6. Plurals require the mark when the addition of es causes the accent to fall on the third syllable from the end of the word: examen, exámenes; orden, órdenes.

a. On the other hand, the addition of es to words ending in n or s accented on the final syllable will cause the mark to be unnecessary: inglés, ingleses; nación, naciones.

7. Verb-forms to which pronouns are added require the accent mark whenever the stress falls on the third or fourth syllable from the end of the combination: dígalo, decíéndolo, decírselo, hágamelo.

a. But the addition of pronouns to verbs bearing marks does not cause the removal of the mark: vióme, véte.

8. Adverbs formed by the use of mente, and compound words, retain the stress and the accent marks of their component parts: sólidamente, espantapájaros, décimoséptimo.

10. Division of Syllables. Every Spanish word contains as many syllables as it has vowels or diphthongs; if possible each syllable should begin with a single consonant, though the digraphs ch, ll, rr, and combinations of a consonant plus l or r (except rl, sl, tl, and sr) are not separated:

Az-cá-ra-te

Ba-chi-ller

Sim-pli-cio

Pa-dre Is-la

To-rre-vie-ja

Car-los Mi-tre

a. The prefixes ab, des, and sub are kept intact: sub-le-va-ción, ab-ro-gar, des-a-mor.

b. The letter s before a consonant is kept with the preceding syllable: in-cons-tan-te, ins-truc-cio-nes, en-hies-to.

NOTE. In printing observe the following.

1. A syllable consisting of a single vowel should not stand at the beginning nor at the end of a line. Thus, a-gudo and efectú-a are not permissible.

2. Compound words which are distinctly felt as such may be divided accordingly: nos-otros, extra-ordinario, cari-acontecido; but derivation, except as indicated here and in section 10 a, is not considered: de-lante, ma-lestar.

3. The separation of contiguous vowels, even when not forming a diphthong, should be avoided, according to the general rule that each syllable should begin with a consonant: geo-logía, arquea-do, poe-sía.

11. Punctuation. Different from English is the use of the following marks of punctuation:

1. Inverted interrogation and exclamation points before questions and exclamations: ¿Quién es? Who is it? ¡Qué hermosa! How beautiful!

2. Three dots (. . .) to indicate an incomplete sentence where English uses a dash.

3. A dash at the beginning of each speech in conversational matter where English uses quotation marks. See Exercise 6, B, 2.

The Spanish names of the marks of punctuation are

. punto final	. . . puntos suspensivos	“ diéresis
, coma	¿ ? interrogación	« » comillas or cita
; punto y coma	! admiración	- guión
: dos puntos	() paréntesis	— raya

12. Capitalization in Spanish differs from its use in English mainly as follows. Not capitalized are

The pronoun yo, I.

Names of days and months.

Geographical adjectives (except sometimes when used as nouns denoting human beings).

PRACTICAL INTRODUCTORY LESSONS

LESSON I

¿Habla Juan español?

Sí, señor, habla español.

¿Qué idioma habla usted?

Hablo inglés.

Carlos y María hablan español.

¿No hablan inglés?

No, señor, no hablan inglés.

¿Vive usted en España?

No vivo en España.

Vivimos en Nueva York.

Y hablamos inglés.

Does John speak Spanish?

Yes, sir, he speaks Spanish.

What language do you speak?

I speak English.

Charles and Mary speak Spanish.

Don't they speak English?

No, sir, they do not speak English.

Are you living in Spain?

I do not live in Spain.

Where are we living?

We live in New York.

And we speak English.

14. Personal Endings. Observe that the endings of the verb in the Spanish sentences above vary and correspond to the English pronouns. Note that no pronouns appear in the Spanish sentences, except usted, meaning you, which is used with the same ending as he. Usted is generally abbreviated to V. or Vd. The plural ustedes (VV. or Vds.) takes the same ending as they.

15. Conjugations. Verbs are divided into three classes or conjugations according to the endings of their infinitives: thus,

- I. hablar, to speak
- II. vender, to sell
- III. vivir, to live

If the ending of the infinitive is dropped, the stem, or radical, remains, to which are added the personal endings.

NOTE. — The infinitive is the name of the verb and is the form given in dictionaries.

16. Present Tense Indicative Mood.

I

hablo	I speak	I am speaking	do I speak?
habla	he speaks	he is speaking	does he speak?
habla usted	you speak	you are speaking	do you speak?
hablamos	we speak	we are speaking	do we speak?
hablan	they speak	they are speaking	do they speak?
hablan ustedes	you speak	you are speaking	do you speak?

II

vendo	I sell	I am selling	do I sell?
vende	he sells	he is selling	does he sell?
vende Vd.	you sell	you are selling	do you sell?
vendemos	we sell	we are selling	do we sell?
venden	they sell	they are selling	do they sell?
venden Vds.	you sell	you are selling	do you sell?

III

vivo	I live	I am living	do I live?
vive	he lives	he is living	does he live?
vive Vd.	you live	you are living	do you live?
vivimos	we live	we are living	do we live?
viven	they live	they are living	do they live?
viven Vds.	you live	you are living	do you live?

a. Observe that the three English forms correspond to the one form of the Spanish verb. The simple form, "He speaks," is not used in English questions or negative statements; but instead, either the progressive form, "Is he speaking?" "He is not speaking," or the emphatic form, "Does he speak?" "He does not speak."

17. Interrogative Sentences. Questions are asked in Spanish by placing the subject of the sentence after the verb.

¿ Habla Juan? Does John speak? Is John speaking?

a. As the subject is frequently placed after the verb even in affirmations, an inverted question mark ¿ precedes a question.

18. Negation. To make a sentence negative, place no, not, before the verb.

No hablo. I am not speaking, I do not speak.

¿Escribe Vd. cartas al señor?			Do you write letters to the gentleman?

20. Gender. Every Spanish noun is grammatically masculine or feminine.

1. Names of male beings are masculine: el artista, the artist; el rey, the king; of female beings feminine: la mujer, the woman; la reina, the queen.

2. Nouns ending in o are generally masculine; in a, feminine: el libro, the book; la pluma, the pen.

a. But there are many exceptions: el día, the day; la mano, the hand. These, like the gender of nouns ending in other letters than o or a, must be learned individually.

3. Nouns denoting persons, employments, or nationality may often be made feminine by changing final o to a, or by adding a:

hermano, brother; hermana, sister; español, Spaniard; española, Spanish woman.

21. Articles. Spanish has two articles, Indefinite and Definite. Each must agree in gender and number with the noun which it modifies.

1. Indefinite article.

MASCULINE un
un libro, a book

FEMININE una una carta, a letter

2. Definite article.

	MASCULINE	FEMININE	NEUTER
SING.	el	la (el)	lo
PLUR.	los	las	(lacking)

a. Feminine el is an old form of the article which is still used before nouns beginning with a stressed syllable in a or ha: el agua, the water; el hacha, the ax; but la América, America.

b. The form el combines with de, of or from, to form del, of the or from the; and with a, to, to form al, to the.

c. The neuter article is used only with adjectives not modifying a noun: lo mismo, the same.

22. Plural of Nouns. To form the plural of nouns, add s to words ending in a vowel, es to words ending in a consonant.

el hombre, the man la mujer, the woman

los hombres, the men
las mujeres, the women

NOTE. — For exceptions, see section 130.

a. Observe change of spelling: el lápiz, the pencil; los lápices, the pencils. The sound of th must be written c before es. See section 7.

b. Final y is treated as a consonant: el rey, the king; los reyes, the kings; la ley, the law; las leyes, the laws.

23. Idiomatic Expressions. No two languages correspond precisely in their methods of expressing ideas. Expressions which do not appear to follow a rule of grammar, or which vary from our own method, we term idiomatic: thus,

A Spanish letter, una carta en español

A Spanish lesson, una lección de español

EXERCISE 2

El abuelo, grandfather. El primo, cousin. El tío, uncle. El hijo, son. El sobrino, nephew. El muchacho, boy. El panadero, the baker. El alemán, the German. El francés, the Frenchman.

Give the plural and translate: 1. El abuelo de la mujer. 2. El hermano del inglés. 3. Al tío del español. 4. La prima del señor. 5. Al hijo de la panadera.

es Vd.	you are	está Vd.
somos	we are	estamos
son	they are	están
son Vds.	you are	están Vds.

a. Ser and estar both correspond to the English verb to be, but each has its distinctive meaning. Estar denotes position: Está en Méjico, He is in Mexico. Ser denotes character; hence must be used before all nouns standing in the predicate: Es español, He is a Spaniard (see section 26, 1).

b. With adjectives estar indicates a condition temporary in duration : Está enfermo, He is sick ; while ser implies an essential quality of a person or thing : El papel es blanco, The paper is white.

c. When an adjective is used in the predicate with the meaning of a noun, the proper verb is ser : Es rico, He is rich (that is, He is a rich man) ; Ella es joven, She is young (that is, a young woman).

d. With bueno, good, and malo, bad, estar refers to health, while ser refers to character : Es bueno, pero está malo, He is a good man, but he is sick.

also when the adjective is used after ser and estar. See section 27 for examples.

a. The attributive adjective is usually placed after the noun: el hombre cortés, the polite man; la mujer hermosa, the beautiful woman.

29. Gender of Adjectives. If a masculine adjective ends in o, the feminine substitutes a for o: blanco, white; negro, black.

Adjectives ending in e or a consonant have the same form in both genders:

el papel verde, the green paper el color azul, the blue color

la casa verde, the green house la luz azul, the blue light

a. Exception. Adjectives of nationality add a to words ending in a consonant: inglés, English; alemán, German.

(For other exceptions see section 135.)

30. Plural of Adjectives. Like the plural of nouns, the plural of adjectives is formed by adding s to words ending in a vowel and es to words ending in a consonant: los papeles verdes, the green papers; las luces azules, the blue lights.

31. Idiomatic Expressions. a. There is or there are, hay.

4. Explain why ser and estar are the proper verbs in the respective sentences of 1 and 2.

B. Para estar bien de salud es preciso habitar una casa sana. En tal casa admitimos el aire y la luz del sol por anchas ventanas. Si no hay luz, las habitaciones están oscuras y vemos mal. En los Estados Unidos alumbramos la casa por medio del gas o de la luz eléctrica y entonces todo está claro. Como el sentido de la vista está en los ojos, debemos tener bastante luz para ver bien sin hacer daño a los ojos. Una madre cubre los tiernos ojos del niño, cuando hay demasiada luz en la habitación, para guardar el niño de la ceguera. Los hombres que no ven son ciegos.

C. 1. ¿Cómo está Vd. de salud? 2. ¿Por qué admitimos el aire en la casa? 3. ¿Por qué necesitamos la luz? 4. ¿Cuál sentido está en los ojos? 5. ¿Está oscura la sala? 6. ¿Cómo está alumbrada? 7. ¿Por qué alumbramos la casa? 8. ¿Hay bastante luz aquí para ver bien? 9. ¿Cuándo ven Vds. bien? 10. ¿Qué es un ciego?

Aquel libro es de Carlos.

A man's family.

33. Possession is expressed in Spanish by the preposition de before the name of the possessor: el lápiz de Paco, Frank's pencil; los zapatos de mi abuelo, my grandfather's shoes.

a. English at may be rendered en casa de, when at is followed by a noun in the possessive case without the name of the thing possessed; as, at Henry's, meaning at Henry's house, office, or store, en casa de Enrique.

b. The possessive interrogative pronoun whose is expressed in Spanish by de quién, which is usually separated from the name of the thing possessed by the verb:

¿De quién es el cortaplumas?

Whose penknife is it?

¿De quién es aquella casa?

Whose house is that?

34. Demonstratives.

	MASCULINE	FEMININE	NEUTER
SING.	este	esta	esto	this
PLUR.	estos	estas	(lacking)	these
SING.	ese	esa	eso	that (near you)
PLUR.	esos	esas	(lacking)	those
SING.	aquel	aquella	aquello	that (yonder)
PLUR.	aquellos	aquellas	(lacking)	those

a. Distinguish carefully between ese, meaning that near the person addressed, and aquel, that, distant from both speaker and person addressed.

b. Corresponding to the adjectives this and that are the adverbs here and there:

este libro aquí, this book here
ese libro ahí, that book there (near you) aquel libro allí, that book (over) there

c. When the demonstratives are not followed by a noun, they are pronouns, taking the gender and number of the noun to which they refer, and are marked by an accent.

Aquí tengo dos plumas: ésta es de Juan, aquélla de María. Here I have two pens: this one is John's, that one is Mary's.

d. The neuter forms stand for things not mentioned by name: ¿Qué es esto? What is this? or for clauses or ideas: ¡Eso no! Not that (what you say). Por eso, for that (reason), therefore.

c. In the expressions written for b, insert the proper form of ser or estar between the noun and the qualifying adjective.

B. Esta parte del cuerpo es el brazo. Al extremo de los brazos están las manos. Ésta es la mano derecha y ésta otra la izquierda. Éstos son dedos. Con los dedos tocamos las cosas para sentir si son blandas o duras, suaves o ásperas; pero el sentido del tacto está en la piel suave que cubre todo el cuerpo. Si toco la madera, hallo que es dura, pero si tomo el pan fresco en la mano, es blando. Si compro pan en casa del panadero, pregunto si está fresco.

También las partes interiores del cuerpo conocen por el tacto otras substancias: y por eso sentimos las comidas y bebidas frías o calientes cuando bajan por la garganta al estómago. El tacto ayuda al sentido de la vista: por eso sabemos que todos los objetos no están a igual distancia, sino que uno está delante y otro detrás, que los unos están cerca y los otros lejos.

C. 1. ¿Cuál es la mano derecha? ¿y la izquierda? 2. ¿Qué está en las manos de Enrique? 3. ¿Quién está sentado a la derecha de Vd.? 4. ¿Son de Carlos o de María aquellos libros allí? 5. ¿Cuál sentido está en la piel? 6. ¿Cómo sentimos si una cosa es blanda? 7. ¿Dónde compra Vd. pan fresco? 8. ¿Está duro o blando aquel pan? 9. ¿Están abiertas esas ventanas? 10. ¿De quién son esos sombreros ahí?

2. tú, thou	vosotros } you (fem.) vosotras }

a. The pronoun tú and its plural vosotros, with their corresponding verb-endings, are used in speaking to members of the family, to children, or to inferiors. Foreign speakers must use usted (Vd.) with the 3d person singular of the verb. Usted is a contraction of vuestra merced, your grace, which was formerly used in polite intercourse.

b. The personal subject pronouns, commonly omitted, are used —

(1) When there is no verb: ¿Quién es? Yo. Who is it? I.

13	trece	600	seiscientos (-as)
14	catorce	700	setecientos (-as)
15	quince	800	ochocientos (-as)
16	diez y seis (dieciséis)	900	novecientos (-as)
17	diez y siete (diecisiete)	1,000	mil
18	diez y ocho (dieciocho)	2,000	dos mil, etc.
19	diez y nueve (diecinueve)	100,000	cien mil
20	veinte	200,000	doscient-os (-as) mil, etc.
21	veinte y uno (veintiuno)	1,000,000	un millón

a. The cardinal numerals are invariable except uno (una casa, one house) and the compounds of ciento (doscientas mujeres, two hundred women).

b. Uno drops o before masculine nouns even in compound numerals: un hombre, one man; treinta y un libros, thirty-one books.

c. Ciento becomes cien before nouns: cien pesos, one hundred dollars; cien mil, one hundred thousand. But 101, ciento uno, etc.

d. With ciento and mil the indefinite article is not used: ciento, one hundred; mil, one thousand.

e. Above 900, Spanish speakers do not count by hundreds; 1200, for example, is mil doscientos.

f. The conjunction y, and, is used only between the ten and the unit of a compound numeral: 1555, mil quinientos cincuenta y cinco.

g. After un millón, the preposition de is required: un millón de duros, a million dollars.

40. The Ordinal Numerals are

1st primero	5th quinto	9th noveno (or nono)
2d segundo	6th sexto (or sexto)	10th décimo
3d tercero	7th séptimo (or sétimo)	11th undécimo
4th cuarto	8th octavo	12th duodécimo

a. Abbreviations according to gender and number are 1^o, 2^a, 3^{os}, 4^{as}, etc.

b. In titles of sovereigns, chapters of books, names of streets, etc., the ordinals are used only to tenth:

Carlos Quinto , Charles the Fifth .	la avenida tercera , Third Avenue .
Alfonso Trece , Alfonso XIII .	la calle catorce al este , East Fourteenth St.
página veinticinco , page twenty-five .	la calle 42 al oeste , West 42d St.

c. In giving dates, primero is used for the first day of the month, but the cardinal numerals are used for the other days. The proper form for writing a date is el 2 de mayo de 1808, May 2d, 1808. In letters, the name of the place and the date appear in the same line without the article: Madrid, 8 de abril de 1910.

d. To inquire the date: ¿A cuántos estamos? In replying, begin with a: a quince de octubre, the fifteenth of October.

41. Vez expresses repetition :

una vez, once	cuántas veces, how often
dos veces, twice	muchas veces, often
tres veces, three times	algunas veces, sometimes
la primera vez, the first time	raras veces, seldom
cada vez, each time	repetidas veces, repeatedly

a. The English indefinite article after such expressions is rendered by al, por, or the definite article : ¿cuántas veces la semana, al día, por año ? how often a week, a day, a year ?

42. Los doce meses del año, the twelve months of the year :

enero, January	julio, July febrero, February	agosto, August marzo, March	septiembre, September abril, April	octubre, October mayo, May	noviembre, November
junio, June	diciembre, December

43. Los siete días de la semana, the seven days of the week .

lunes, Monday	jueves, Thursday martes, Tuesday	viernes, Friday miércoles, Wednesday	sábado, Saturday domingo, Sunday

el lunes, on Monday	el jueves pasado, last Thursday
los martes, on Tuesdays	el último día del mes, the last day
el miércoles que viene, next	of the month
Wednesday

a. The names of the months, days, and seasons are usually written without capitalization.

b. The definite article is required before expressions of time that are modified by an adjective : la semana pasada, last week.

c. In expressions of time the definite article appears where English uses the preposition on : el viernes, on Friday. El vapor sale el quince del mes, The steamer leaves on the fifteenth of the month.

44. Las estaciones del año, the seasons of the year :

la primavera, *spring*el otoño, *autumn*el verano, *summer*el invierno, winter

LESSON VIII

46. Shortened Form of Adjectives. 1. Before a masculine singular noun the following adjectives drop the final o :

uno, one, an or a alguno, some ninguno, no, none, no one bueno, good

malo, bad

primero, first tercero, third postrero, last

un buen hombre, a good man

mal tiempo, bad weather

algún día, some day

el primer mes, the first month

But

un hombre malo, a bad man

el primero del mes, the first of the month

2. Grande becomes gran before either a masculine or a feminine singular noun that begins with a consonant :

un gran señor, a great lord

una gran casa, a great house

But grande hombre, great man

un grande amigo, a great friend

a. When grande refers to size it is frequently placed after the noun :

el río grande, the big river

casa grande, big house

47. Comparison of Adjectives. The comparative degree of Spanish adjectives is formed by using más, more, with the positive. The superlative is made by prefixing the definite article to the comparative.

POSITIVE

rich

rico

rica

richer

más rico

más rica

más ricos

más ricas

SUPERLATIVE

richest el más rico

la más rica

los más ricos

las más ricas

a. In forming the superlative degree, a possessive adjective may be substituted for the definite article :

mi caballo más fuerte, my strongest horse

nuestra mejor tinta, our best ink

48. Irregular Comparison.

bueno, mejor, el mejor, good, better, best malo, peor, el peor, bad, worse, worst grande, mayor, el mayor, great, greater, greatest; older, oldest pequeño, menor, el menor, small, smaller, smallest; younger, youngest

a. Grande and pequeño are also compared regularly. In speaking of persons mayor means older, menor younger, while the regular comparison refers to size. Mi hermano mayor, my older brother. Mi hermano es más grande que yo, My brother is taller than I.

b. Corresponding to these adjectives are the following adverbs:

bien, mejor, well, better or best mal, peor, badly, worse or worst mucho, más, much (a great deal), more or most poco, menos, little, less or least

1. Mucho and poco are also adjectives.

2. The superlative of an adverb is usually the same as the comparative. See section 145, 6.

49. Than after comparatives is que; but when the comparison means a greater number than or a less number than, de must be used.

Tiene más dinero que yo. He has more money than I.

Tiene más de mil pesos. He has more than a thousand dollars.

50. Comparison of Equality. The comparison of things by the correlative words as . . . as, as (so) much . . . as, as (so) many . . . as, is called the comparison of equality. Before nouns as (so) much, as (so) many, are adjectives; hence tanto and its feminine and plural forms tanta, tantos, tantas are used. Before adjectives as (so) is an adverb and the short invariable form tan is required. The invariable como introduces the second term of the comparison.

Tengo tanto pan y tantas manzanas como Juan. I have as much bread and as many apples as John.

Son tan ricos como reyes. They are as rich as kings.

51. Agreement of Adjectives. An adjective agreeing with two nouns is put in the plural.

If the nouns are of different genders, the masculine plural adjective is generally used.

- El hombre y la mujer son ricos. The man and the woman are rich.
El presidente y sus hijas están enfermos. The president and his daughters are ill.

52. Position of Adjectives. Spanish adjectives are usually placed after their nouns ; but common adjectives like bueno, malo, pequeño, grande, mucho, and numerals generally precede the noun :

un libro rojo, a red book el pequeño sombrero, the little hat cinco hombres, five men

a. An adjective modified by an adverb is usually placed after its noun : un buen caballo, a good horse, but un caballo muy bueno, a very good horse.

b. A superlative adjective has the article before the noun while the remainder may follow the noun :

la roca más elevada, the highest rock el buey más fuerte, the strongest ox

c. Some adjectives have a different meaning according as they precede or follow the noun. For these and for further discussion of the position of adjectives see section 139.

53. Idiomatic Expressions. a. After a superlative adjective, use the preposition de :

the youngest in the family, el menor de la familia the prettiest girl in the town, la niña más linda de la ciudad

b. To express age, use the verb tener, to have.

¿ Qué edad tiene Vd. ? (lit. What age have you ?) ¿ Cuántos años tiene Vd. ? (lit. How many years have you ?) } How old are you ?

Tengo veinte años. I am twenty years old.

Mi padre es mayor que mi madre, My father is older than my mother, mi tío.

Los montes dan origen a las fuentes y a los ríos que riegan los bosques y las selvas que suministran al hombre la madera para su casa, y los pastos de muchos animales.

2. Algunos animales son muy útiles. El elefante es el animal más grande del mundo; pero el caballo es mejor para el trabajo, aunque menos fuerte. Son también buenos el buey y la vaca. De la piel de estos animales hace el hombre la mejor clase de cuero para los zapatos que protegen sus pies. Para abrigar su cuerpo contra el tiempo frío, el hombre emplea la lana de la oveja, de la cual hace vestidos, un sombrero para la cabeza, una chaqueta para cubrir la espalda, el pecho y los brazos, pantalones para las piernas. El hombre come la carne de los animales, especialmente la carne de vaca, de carnero y de cerdo. La leche es también un alimento de grande importancia.

LESSON IX

54. Radical-changing Verbs. Many Spanish verbs having the radical vowel e or o change the vowel in the present tense when the radical is stressed in pronunciation: e becomes ie, o becomes ue. The radical in the present tense is stressed in the 1st, 2d, and 3d person singular, and the 3d person plural.

(To find the radical of a Spanish verb, drop the ending of the infinitive: e.g. pensar, radical pens.)

PRESENT INDICATIVE

Pensar, to think, intend	Encontrar, to find, meet
SING. 1. pienso, I think	SING. 1. encuentro, I find
2. piensas, thou thinkest	2. encuentras, thou findest
3. piensa, he thinks	3. encuentra, he finds
PLUR. 1. pensamos, we think	PLUR. 1. encontramos, we find
2. pensáis, you think	2. encontráis, you find
3. piensan, they think	3. encuentran, they find
¿Piensa Vd.? Do you intend?	¿Encuentra Vd.? Do you find?

Querer, to desire, wish, be willingSING. 1. quiero, I wish, am willing2. quieres, thou wishest3. quiere, he wishesPLUR. 1. queremos, we wish2. queréis, you wish3. quieren, they wish¿ Quiere Vd.? *Will you?Poder, to be able, canSING. 1. puedo, I can2. puedes, thou canst3. puede, he canPLUR. 1. podemos, we can2. podéis, you can3. pueden, they can¿ Puede Vd.? *Can you?Sentir, to feel, perceive, regret,

55. The Infinitive. A verb depending on another verb is frequently put in the infinitive mood; sometimes with a connecting preposition, but many verbs, such as poder, querer, sentir, pensar, ver, oír, are followed directly by the infinitive.

Pienso ir a Cuba.I intend to go to Cuba.¿ Puede Vd. dormir?Can you sleep?Queremos saber.We wish to know.*

56. Indirect Object. The indirect object of a verb is that person or thing interested in the action expressed by the verb, but neither performing the action nor receiving it directly; thus, in He writes Charles a letter, "Charles" is the indirect object. In English the indirect object is often indicated by merely placing it before the direct object. If the indirect object is placed elsewhere in the sentence, it is preceded by some preposition, usually to: thus, He writes a letter to Charles. In Spanish, Escribe una carta a Carlos; but the preposition a must always precede the indirect object in Spanish no matter what its position in the sentence: thus, Escribe a Carlos una carta.

a. Verbs denoting separation require the preposition a before the name of the person from whom things are obtained just as though it were an indirect object. Hence a translates 'from' in such expressions as the following:

comprar a un español, to buy from a Spaniard pedir un favor a mi padre, to ask my father a favor oír el cuento a una gitana, to hear the story from a gypsy woman robar el dinero al ciego, to steal the money from the blind man

b. In speaking of the person or clothing, the definite article is used instead of the possessive adjective, and the indirect object indicates the person if necessary:

Salvó la vida al hombre.	He saved the man's life.
El viento llevó el sombrero a mi padre.	The wind carried off my father's hat.
En vez de contestar: — No puedo ir, — tomo el sombrero y voy.	Instead of replying, "I cannot go," I take my hat and go.
Romperé la cabeza a quien quiera oponerse a mi entrada.	I will break the head of any one who tries to oppose my entrance.

57. Direct Object. Personal a. The direct object of a verb is that person or thing which suffers the action of the verb. In Spanish, when the direct object denotes a definite person or personified thing, or is a proper noun, the preposition a must precede it.

Encuentran un peso.	They find a dollar.
Encuentran a su padre.	They find their father.
Visitan a Valparaíso.	They visit Valparaiso.

The use of the preposition a before the direct personal object is very important in Spanish. It permits placing the direct object before the verb. A Eduardo Séptimo sigue Jorge Quinto, George the Fifth succeeds Edward the Seventh.

58. Idiomatic Expressions. a. In regard to the weather, use the impersonal verb hace, it makes :

¿Qué tal tiempo hace?	What kind of weather is it?
Hace mal tiempo.	It is bad weather.
Hace buen tiempo.	It is good weather.
Hace mucho calor.	It is very warm.
Hace mucho frío.	It is very cold.
Hace viento.	It is windy.

b. When the conditions of the weather concern visible objects, hay, there is, introduces the expression :

Hay sol.	The sun is shining.	Hay lodo.	It is muddy.
Hay polvo.	It is dusty.	Hay neblina.	It is foggy.
Hay luna esta noche.			There is a moon to-night.

c. Statements concerning the person commonly employ tener, to have, instead of the verb to be, as in English.

Tengo frío.	I am cold.	Tengo hambre.	I am hungry.
Tenemos sueño.	We are sleepy.	Tengo sed.	I am thirsty.
Tengo mucho calor.			I am very warm.
Tienen prisa.			They are in a hurry.
Tiene los ojos azules.			His eyes are blue.

d. As the words calor, frío, etc. used with hace, hay, and tener are nouns, the adverb muy, very, cannot be used, but instead of it the adjective mucho, which must agree with the noun : thus, Tengo mucho calor y mucha sed, I am very hot and thirsty.

e. Querer is a very important verb. Its general meaning, to desire, to wish, includes all kinds of willing.

Will you ? Are you willing ? Will you have ?	} = ¿Quiere Vd. ?	If you please. Si Vd. quiere.
--	-------------------	-------------------------------

To mean, querer decir; as, What does this word mean? ¿Qué quiere decir esta palabra?

EXERCISE 9

A. a. Find in the vocabulary the infinitive of despierta, muere, vistes, sirvo, cuentan.

b. Insert the preposition a in the following sentences. Tell why it is necessary. 1. La madre da una manzana — su niño. 2. El chico pide un vaso de agua — su madre. 3. Juan ama — su madre. 4. Este señor escribe — su sobrino. 5. No encontramos — nuestra hermana.

c. Translate: 1. He asks for an apple. 2. We can see. 3. I wish to ask. 4. I can sleep. 5. They are sorry. 6. We are cold. 7. They are very hungry. 8. It is warm. 9. What will you have? 10. I intend to study. 11. How much does he ask? 12. What do you mean? 13. Is the sun shining? 14. It is not cold. 15. I am very warm.

B. Cuando Enrique toca una campanilla u otro instrumento, suena; y él oye el sonido porque tiene el sentido del oído. Un sonido confuso es un ruido. Algunas veces no podemos oír bien a causa del ruido de la calle.

Los demás sentidos son la vista, el gusto, el olfato y el tacto.

Los ojos son los órganos del sentido de la vista. Hay hombres que no pueden ver: estos pobres son ciegos. Y en la obscuridad estamos todos ciegos, porque sin luz no es posible ver.

Enrique siente el sabor de los alimentos en la boca donde tocan la lengua. Como el chico no quiere el café amargo, ni la fruta ácida, pide a su madre azúcar que es dulce. Ella da el azúcar a su hijo.

La nariz de Enrique sirve para sentir los olores. Puede percibir que una flor huele bien o mal, y que la habitación huele a tabaco.

El sonido que de la garganta viene a la boca es la voz; recibe varias modulaciones de la lengua, de los dientes y de los labios. Enrique grita o habla en voz alta a su abuelo porque éste es sordo: pero á su madre puede hablar en voz baja porque ella no tiene el oído duro¹ y está cerca. Pero si está lejos, habla en voz alta también a su madre.

C. 1. ¿Cuántos sentidos tienen Vds.? ¿Cuáles son? 2. ¿Oye Vd. el sonido del piano? 3. ¿Cuándo hay mucho ruido en la calle? 4. ¿Quiere Vd. la fruta ácida o dulce? 5. ¿Qué pide Enrique a su madre para hacer dulce el café? 6. ¿Para qué sirve la nariz? 7. ¿Cómo huele una rosa? 8. ¿Qué es un sordo? 9. ¿Qué quiere decir la palabra sordo? 10. ¿Puede Vd. oír si hablo en voz baja? 11. ¿Tiene Vd. frío o calor? ¿Mucho? 12. ¿Por qué tienen Vds. frío? 13. ¿Hace frío cuando hay sol? 14. ¿A quién sigue Jorge Quinto?

D. 1. When the bell rings, John opens the door. 2. A deaf man cannot hear so well as you. 3. When the coffee is bitter, I ask for sugar. 4. Do you wish sugar in your coffee? 5. I do not sleep well when there is a great noise in the street. 6. In the street there is a man who¹ says,¹ "Who wants oranges?" How much does he ask? 7. I wish to give my sister a sweet orange. 8. I can hear Henry's voice; he is shouting. 9. Can you see Charles? He is ringing the bell. 10. The Spanish word la voz means the sound which comes from the throat, but the plural las voces means 'words.' 11. Will you give this poor man a dollar? He is blind. 12. When I am hungry I wish to eat, and when I am thirsty I wish to drink. 13. John's eyes are blue. 14. If you visit London, you will see² the king. 15. On account of the darkness we cannot see the persons in the room.

LESSON X

59. Reflexive Verbs. A reflexive verb is one which represents the subject as acting on itself: as, He cuts himself.

a. The Spanish reflexive pronoun for the third person is se, which is appended to the infinitive: cortarse, to cut oneself.

b. In Spanish many verbs are reflexive in form though not so in English: levantar, to raise; levantarse, to raise oneself, i.e. to get up.

c. In conjugating a reflexive verb, the pronouns are usually put before the verb; but the infinitive, the present participle, and the imperative without no, add the pronoun as another syllable.

Levantándose. Getting up.

Levántese Vd. Get up.

Siéntese Vd. Sit down.

Sentándose. Sitting down.

No se levante Vd. Don't get up.

No se sienta Vd. Don't sit down.

60. Present Indicative.

Levantarse, to get up me levanto, I get up te levantas, you get up se levanta, he gets up nos levantamos, we get up os levantáis, you get up

se levantan, they get up

¿ Se levanta Vd.? *Do

vas a levantarte, you are going to get up va a levantarse, he is going to get up vamos a levantarnos, we are going to get up

¿ Va Vd. a levantarse? *Are you going

a. It is always necessary to learn the special meaning of a reflexive verb, as it often differs in translation from the simple verb; as. ir, to go, irse, to go away; morir, to die, morirse, to be dying.

61. The Spanish reflexive verb is often used in a general sense where English uses the passive voice.

Aquí se habla español.

El muchacho se llama Juan.

¿ Cómo se llama Vd.?

Me llamo Francisco.

Spanish (is) spoken here.

The boy is called John.

How are you called? or, more idiomatically, What is your name?

My name is Francis.

62. Idiomatic Expressions. a. When referring to parts of the body or clothing it is customary to use the definite article instead of the possessive adjective. A pronoun before the verb shows what person is meant whenever necessary: Se pone el sombrero, He puts on his hat; Me quito el sombrero, I take off my hat; Se corta el dedo, He cuts his finger. (See section 56, b.)

b. To express the time of an action al with the infinitive is common: Al levantarme, me lavo la cara, On getting up (or When I get up), I wash my face; Al cerrar yo la puerta, gritaron, Upon my closing the door (or When I closed the door), they shouted.

2. La tierra se mueve alrededor del sol, inclinándose¹ un poco hacia una parte, de lo cual² resulta que una mitad del año los pueblos de la mitad superior de la tierra tienen los días más largos que las noches. En la otra parte del año sucede lo contrario y de este modo se verifican las estaciones del año. El invierno es cuando los rayos del sol vienen más inclinados y son los días cortos; por esto hace mucho frío. En la primavera crecen la hierba y las plantas. En el verano hace mucho calor. En el otoño se cogen los frutos del campo mientras caen las hojas de los árboles.

3. El hombre nace, vive y muere sobre la tierra. En su figura se asemeja ésta bastante a una naranja un poco aplastada por los dos extremos, que en geografía se llaman los polos. Los rayos del sol alumbran y calientan la tierra, que da vuelta alrededor del sol, y sobre su eje (axis). Así se determinan cuatro puntos cardinales que son norte, sur, este y oeste. Se llama este aquella parte del cielo en que vemos el sol al amanecer. Oeste se llama la parte opuesta por donde se oculta el sol al anochecer.

C. 1. ¿Se despierta Vd. temprano o tarde? 2. ¿Qué hace Vd. después de despertarse? 3. ¿Dónde se sienta Vd. para el almuerzo? 4. ¿De qué se sirven Vds. para el servicio de la mesa? 5. ¿A dónde se marcha Vd. después del almuerzo? 6. ¿Se divierten Vds. mucho en el colegio? 7. ¿Cuándo tenemos los días más cortos que las noches? 8. ¿Por qué tenemos el día y la noche? 9. ¿Qué estación del año tenemos ahora? 10. ¿Por qué hay estaciones? 11. ¿Qué tal tiempo hace en el invierno? ¿en el verano? 12. ¿Cómo se llaman los puntos cardinales?

warmer. 7. The two ends of the earth are called the North Pole and the South Pole. 8. When I face the north, the east is on the right, and the west on the left. 9. LESSON XI

63. Preterit Tense. The Spanish preterit tense, indicative mood, denotes that a single act was performed and completed in past time. It corresponds to the English past tense: He saw, Vió. Did you see? ¿ Vió Vd.?

-ar VERBS

SING. 1. compré, I bought
 2. compraste, you bought
 3. compró, he bought

PLUR. 1. vendimos, we sold
 2. vendisteis, you sold
 3. vendieron, they sold

¿ Vendió Vd.? Did you sell?

a. Note the importance of the written accent: compro, present tense, I buy; compró, preterit tense, he bought.

b. In conjugating the preterit tense, certain changes of spelling must be borne in mind. The radical of a verb must keep the same final consonant sound which it has in the infinitive: consequently verbs ending in car, gar, and zar are spelled in the first person singular of the preterit like the following models:

sacar : saqué, I drew out, sacaste, etc.
llegar : llegué, I arrived, llegaste, etc.
empezar : empecé, I began, empezaste, etc.

See table of spellings, section 7; and also section 242.

c. Verbs of the -ir conjugation that change the radical in the present tense change e to i, and o to u, in the third person singular and plural of the preterit tense.

Sentir, to feelSING. I. sentí, I felt2. sentiste, you felt3. sintió, he feltPLUR. d. Spanish spelling requires that the letter i unaccented should not stand between two vowels; consequently, verbs whose stem ends with a vowel have y in the third person singular and plural of the preterit tense.

Creer, to believe, to thinkSING. I. creí, I believed2. creíste, you believed3. creyó, he believedPLUR. I. creímos, we believed2. creísteis, you believed3. creyeron, they believed¿ Creyó Vd.? Did you believe?

64. Idiomatic Expressions. a. The verb hace, it makes, is used with expressions of time to convey the same idea as the English word ago:

hace un año, *a year ago*hace una hora, an hour ago

b. In reckoning time the Spanish count the day on which the calculation is made; hence, Con once navíos y algunos centenares de soldados, desembarcó en el puerto de San Juan de Ulúa en 1519, fundó la fortaleza de Veracruz, quemó sus naves y marchó sobre Méjico. Venció a sus enemigos; sitió y tomó a Méjico donde se apoderó de Montezuma. b. This tense is frequent in descriptive matter. Though usually translated as above, the simple form of the English past tense may occur: as, When I lived in Cuba, I spoke Spanish. As the verbs denote continued or habitual acts, the Spanish uses the imperfect tense, Cuando vivía en Cuba, hablaba español.

66. Idiomatic Expressions. a. Había, there was, there were, imperfect tense corresponding to hay, there is, there are.

b. With expressions of time todo, all, in the plural means every: todos los días, every day; todos los domingos, every Sunday. But note in the singular todo el mundo, everybody.

LESSON XIII

67. Participles. Spanish verbs have two participles, the present (or gerund) and the past.

-ar VERBS	-er AND -ir VERBS
PRESENT comprando	vendiendo
PAST comprado	vendido

68. Present Participle. The Spanish present participle is invariable, and is used to express all sorts of relations much more freely than the present participle in English: Siendo niño, vi al rey, When I was a child (lit. being a child), I saw the king. See section 274.

a. The pronouns are appended to the present participle as an additional syllable, in which case an accent mark must be written over the stressed vowel of the ending: levantándose, getting up.

69. Past Participle. The past participle may be used like an adjective, and agrees with its noun in gender and number.

las puertas cerradas, the closed doors
las ventanas abiertas, the open windows

a. Some past participles are irregular in form:

abrir; abierto	to open; opened cubrir; cubierto	to cover; covered descubrir; descubierto	to discover; discovered escribir; escrito	to write; written imprimir; impreso	to print; printed romper; roto	to break; broken

b. The principal use of the past participle is in forming compound tenses with the auxiliary verb haber. The past participle remains unchanged in form.

70. Perfect Tense. The present tense of haber combined with the past participle of any verb gives the perfect tense of that verb.

-ar VERBS

 3. han vendido, they have sold

71. Pluperfect Tense. The imperfect tense of haber combined with the past participle of any verb gives the pluperfect tense of that verb.

-ar VERBS

- SING. 1. había comprado, I had bought
 2. habías comprado, you had bought

- PLUR. 1. habíamos vendido, we had sold
 2. habíais vendido, you had sold
 3. habían vendido, they had sold
- ¿Había vendido Vd.? Had you sold?

72. The Parts of a Compound Tense must not be separated by other words as in English.

Have you written?

¿Ha escrito Vd.?

I have not written.

No he escrito.

Has John always lived here?

¿Ha vivido Juan siempre aquí?

73. Use of Perfect Tense. The perfect and the preterit tenses both refer to action in past time. The perfect is used —

1. When the action is recent:

Ha llovido mucho esta mañana.

It rained hard this morning.

2. When the action, though performed in the past, still continues or affects the present:

España ha producido grandes hombres.

Spain has produced great men.

Inglaterra se ha hecho señora del mar.

England has become mistress of the sea.

If these acts were ascribed to a definite past time the preterit would be used.

España produjo grandes hombres en el siglo XVI.

Spain produced great men in the sixteenth century.

Inglaterra se hizo señora del mar por la victoria de Nelson.

England became mistress of the sea through Nelson's victory.

3. When the verb merely asserts the existence of a fact without referring the action to a definite time:

Lo he dicho muchas veces.

I have often said so.

Lo dije ayer.

I said so yesterday.

74. Adverbs and Prepositions with Verbs. 1. In English some verbs have their meaning so modified by adverbs as to form a class by themselves. Such compounds are expressed in Spanish by verbs having different roots and not by the same verb modified by different adverbs: as,

go into, entrar

go out, salir

go up, subir

go down, bajar

2. In both Spanish and English some verbs require a preposition before the object, but not necessarily the same verb in both languages. Examine the following :

to answer a question, contestar a una pregunta to enter the house, entrar en la casa to ask for an answer, pedir una contestación to ask (i.e. to inquire), preguntar to go out of the room, salir de la habitación

75. Relative Pronouns. The commonest relative pronouns are que, which, who, that; referring to both persons and things quien (quienes), who; referring only to persons

a. After prepositions, que is used only to refer to things, quien to persons.

El lápiz que tengo.

The pencil which I have.

La mujer que vi.

The woman whom I saw.

La casa en que vivo.

The house in which I live.

El hombre a quien dió el dinero.

The man to whom he gave the money.

Los señores de quienes hablábamos.

The gentlemen of whom we were speaking.

b. Frequently the expressions will you, I will, etc. mean are you willing, I wish, etc., in which case they should be rendered by the proper forms of querer: will you buy? ¿quiere Vd. comprar?

a. The conditional is formed from the infinitive by adding the endings of the imperfect tense of haber: comprar(hab)ía.

b. The conditional takes the name from its frequent use in the conclusion of a condition: Si tuviese dinero, compraría el perro, If I had money, I should buy the dog. The conditional is only used in connection with some verb in a past tense; hence, it stands for the future in a quoted statement depending on a verb denoting past time: Comprará el perro, He will buy the dog; Dijo que compraría el perro, He said that he would buy the dog.

c. Should in the sense of ought is rendered by some form of deber, or other word expressing obligation: I should go because my father is sick, Debo ir porque está malo mi padre.

NOTE. The arrow indicates the word to which the pronoun refers.

80. The Personal Pronouns have the following forms.

SINGULAR

SUBJECT	DIRECT OBJECT	INDIRECT OBJECT	PREPOSITIONAL
1. yo, I	me, me	me, (to) me	mí, me
2. tú, thou	te, thee	te, (to) thee	ti, thee
3. él, he ella, she } it	le or lo, him la, her } it	le, (to) him } (to) le, (to) her } it	él, him } it ella, her } it

1. nosotros(-as), we	nos, us	nos, (to) us	nosotros(-as), us
2. vosotros(-as), you	os, you	os, (to) you	vosotros(-as), you
3. ellos, they ellas, they	los, them las, them	les, (to) them les, (to) them	ellos, them ellas, them

a. Usted is represented by the pronouns of the third person according to gender and number.

usted, you	{ le, you (masc.) la, you (fem.) }	le, (to) you	usted, you
ustedes, you	{ los, you (masc.) las, you (fem.) }	les, (to) you	ustedes, you

b. The reflexive pronoun se has the prepositional form sí: Dios me llama a sí, God calls me to himself.

81. The Objective Forms of the personal pronouns are placed before the verb, except the infinitive mood, the present participle, and the positive imperative. The pronouns follow these verb forms, and are written as one word with them. If the addition of this extra syllable causes the spoken accent to fall on any syllable farther back than the second from the end of the combination, the accented syllable must be marked by a written accent.

Me habla.	He speaks to me.
Hábleme Vd.	Speak to me.
No me hable Vd.	Don't speak to me.
Quiere hablarme.	He wishes to speak to me.
Hablándome.	Speaking to me.

a. The objective pronouns have no accent of their own, but are pronounced as a part of the verb to which they belong. Me lo da,

He gives it to me, is pronounced as if written melodá. No me ha dado, He has not given me, pronounced Nomehadádo.

b. On account of their close relation to the verb, the objective forms of the personal pronouns are also called "conjunctive."

82. The Prepositional Forms are used after prepositions: una carta para él, a letter for him. They may be stressed in pronunciation, so are used to explain or emphasize the unaccented objective forms: Nos escribió a mí y a mi hermano (explanatory), He wrote to us, (that is) me and my brother; Me lo da a mí, no a ti (emphasis), He gives it to me, not to you.

a. The forms mí, ti, and sí are not used after con. Instead, note the special forms conmigo, with me; contigo, with thee; consigo, with himself.

b. Being used apart from the verb, the prepositional forms are also called "disjunctive."

83. Adverbs in Spanish are formed from adjectives by the addition of mente to the feminine singular: seguramente, safely. Remember that the feminine of adjectives which do not end in o in the masculine, with a few exceptions (see section 135), is like the masculine: hence, cortésmente, politely; alegremente, joyfully.

a. If two or more adverbs follow each other, mente is added only to the last: Oí el toque clara y distintamente, I heard the signal clearly and distinctly.

b. From nouns, adverbial expressions are formed by the use of prepositions: con alegría, joyfully; sobre todo, especially, above all; en seguida, at once, immediately.

c. Adjectives are sometimes used as adverbs: Vivían dichosos, They lived happily.

EXERCISE 15

Sí, us espera. 8. Him esperamos. To him escribí, no to her. 9. To her escribimos la carta. It recibió ella ayer. 10. ¿Tiene Vd. una carta para me? 11. ¿Quiere Vd. venir con me? Sí, quiero ir con thee.

I gave them the letter. I did not sell him the horse. He will send her a present. I wish to sell you my house.

c. Make adverbs from these adjectives and give meanings: lento, fácil, claro, feliz, elegante, perfecto.

Supply two adverbs to modify habló, he spoke; escribe, he writes.

B. 1. Hace muchos años un campesino regresó de un viaje a casa donde tenía una mujer hermosa y una pequeña niña muy bonita. A ti—dijo a su mujer—te he traído un espejo. Mírale¹ y dime² qué ves dentro. Le dió³ entonces una caja de madera donde, cuando la abrió ella, encontró el espejo. Allí vió la joven esposa una cara que la miraba y le sonreía alegremente. —¿Qué ves? preguntó el marido. —Veo a una linda moza que me mira y lleva un vestido azul exactamente como el mío. —Tonta, es tu propia cara, le contestó el marido. Encantada la mujer con el regalo pasó algunos días mirándose. Consideró el espejo como una alhaja de sobrado precio ; la guardó en su caja y la ocultó entre sus tesoros. Como no hablaba nunca del espejo, el padre lo olvidó completamente. Pasaron años y marido y mujer vivían muy dichosos. Pero llegó un día en que la madre cayó enferma y aunque la hija la cuidó con tierno afecto se fué¹ empeorando cada vez más. Cuando conoció ella que pronto debía abandonar a su marido y a su hija, se afligía por ellos, sobre todo por la niña. La llamó pues y le dijo²: — Querida hija mía, ya ves que estoy muy enferma y pronto voy a morir y a dejaros solos a ti y a tu padre. Prométeme que mirarás en el espejo todos los días al despertar y al acostarte. En él me verás y conocerás que estoy siempre velando por ti. Entonces le enseñó el sitio donde estaba oculto el espejo y la niña prometió con lágrimas lo que su madre le pedía, y ésta expiró a poco. En adelante la niña tomaba cada mañana y cada tarde el espejo del lugar donde estaba oculto y miraba en él por largo rato e intensamente. Allí veía la cara de su perdida madre. A ella confiaba de noche sus disgustos del día y en ella al despertar buscaba aliento y cariño.

B. Una tarde cuando ya se anochecía Flor se encontró con el doctor Guzmán a la vuelta de una esquina, y éste se detuvo a saludarla.

— ¡Hola! exclamó él con alegría.

— Para servir a Vd., doctor, contestó ella.

— ¿Adónde va por estos lados?

— Vivo muy cerca; vengo del trabajo y voy a casa.

— ¿Y qué hace Vd. ahora?

— Coser, coser y llevar esta vida con paciencia.

— Pero ¡qué bien la encuentro de salud!

— Después de Dios, gracias a Vd.

— Pues lo celebro mucho. He tenido gran placer en saludarla.

¹ ¿Decía Vd.? is the proper way to ask one to repeat what has not been understood. ¿Qué? what, is vulgar.

² Singular and plural.

— Adiós, adiós, doctor.

Y se estrecharon las manos.

Un domingo por la tarde Rosalía entró en casa de Flor. Estaba ésta en el jardín, regando las macetas. Confusa Flor salió a recibirla.

— Yo soy Rosalía de Valera: vivo en la calle de la Paz, casa número 36, y allí estoy a sus órdenes.

— Señora, muchas gracias. Tengo mucho gusto en conocerla, y en esta casa habita una servidora de usted.

— Me han dicho que usted hace muy bien toda clase de bordados.

— Sí, señora, puedo bordar lo que usted quiera.

— Pues bien, yo vengo a eso justamente. Puede usted hacerme el servicio de bordarme para dentro de dos meses cuatro fundas de almohada muy bonitas y vistosas. Las quiero así para un regalo, ¿sabe usted?

— No tengo inconveniente.

—Entonces ¿puedo contar con ellas?

—Sí, señora.

LESSON XVII

86. The Imperative Mood expressing command has these forms :

-ar VERBS		-er VERBS		-ir VERBS
SING.	PLUR.	SING.	PLUR.	SING.	PLUR.
2. compra	comprad	2. vende	vended	2. escribe	escribid

87. The Use of the imperative mood is limited to positive commands of the familiar form; that is, to children or intimate acquaintances. Formal or polite requests, and negative commands of the familiar form, are supplied from the present subjunctive. A complete scheme follows :

FAMILIAR		POLITE
-ar VERBS
SING. compra	no compres	compre Vd.	no compre Vd.
PLUR. comprad	no compréis	compren Vds.	no compren Vds.
buy	don't buy	buy	don't buy
-er VERBS
SING. vende	no vendas	venda Vd.	no venda Vd.
PLUR. vendad	no vendáis	vendan Vds.	no vendan Vds.
sell	don't sell	sell	don't sell
-ir VERBS
SING. escribe	no escribas	escriba Vd.	no escriba Vd.
PLUR. escribid	no escribáis	escriban Vds.	no escriban Vds.
write	don't write	write	don't write

88. The Subjunctive Mood, present tense, has the following forms:

-ar VERBS	-er AND -ir VERBS
SING. 1. compre	SING. 1. venda
2. compres	2. vendas
3. compre	3. venda
PLUR. 1. compremos	PLUR. 1. vendamos
2. compréis	2. vendáis
3. compren	3. vendan

A translation of the forms is not given because it might lead to misconceptions. See section 109.

89. Radical-Changing Verbs, being accented on the radical, suffer a change of vowel in the 2d person singular of the imperative, and throughout the singular and in the 3d person plural of the present subjunctive. See sections 244-247 for models.

90. The Present Subjunctive, when not used in a clause dependent on another verb, is used independently to express (1) a command or (2) a wish.

1. English commands in the second person are given by the imperative, usually without a subject expressed; as, Go. English commands in the first person plural, and in the third person singular and plural, are given by a locution beginning with let; as, Let us go. Let him go. Spanish uses the subjunctive mood for all (except familiar commands, see section 87), but usually introduces the third persons by que. Note the forms:

To speak, hablar

- SING. 2. Speak, Hable Vd.
 3. Let John speak, Que Juan hable
Let her speak, Que hable ella
- PLUR. 1. Let us speak, Hablemos
 2. Speak, Hablen Vds.
 3. Let them speak, Que hablen

*To sit down, sentarse*SING. 2. *Sit down, Siéntese Vd.*3. Let him be seated, Que se siente
*Let her sit down, Que se siente ella*PLUR. 1. *Let us sit down, Sentémonos*2. *Sit down, Siéntense Vds.*3. Let them be seated, Que se sienten

a. The present subjunctive is sometimes used for the imperative, even in affirmative commands. — Sube al momento. No recibió contestación. — Que subas. "Come up at once." He received no reply. "Come up."

b. The present indicative appears for the subjunctive in mild commands. Vas allá y le suplicas y le ruegas. Go there and beg and entreat him.

2. A wish is expressed in English by the subjunctive or by may followed by an infinitive. Spanish uses the subjunctive mood.

¡ Viva el rey !	Long live the king !
¡ Dios le ampare !	God protect you !
¡ Sea Vd. feliz !	May you be happy !

91. Pronouns, with the imperative or the subjunctive used as imperative, follow the verb and are appended to it, unless the expression is negative or introduced by que or some other word, in which cases the pronoun precedes.

Hágalo Vd.	Do it.	Dime ahora.	Tell me now.
No lo haga.	Don't do it.	No le digas.	Don't tell him.
Hágalo Jorge, or Que Jorge lo haga.			Let George do it.

92. Reflexive Verbs have the following peculiarities :

1. The second plural imperative loses d before os, except irse :

sentad + os = sentaos, be seated
But idos, go away

2. The first plural drops s before nos :

vamos + nos = vámonos, Let's go away
sentemos + nos = sentémonos, Let's sit down

93. Idiomatic Expressions. English please, introducing a request may be rendered by various locutions as in the following :

Tenga Vd. la bondad de cerrar la puerta.	Please (lit. Have the kindness to) close the door.
Hágame Vd. el favor de repetir.	Please (lit. Do me the favor to) repeat.
Sírvase Vd. traerme un vaso de agua.	Please bring me a glass of water. (Sírvase , from servirse , is less courteous than the other expressions. Use with persons under obligation to serve you; frequent in business letters.)
Pase Vd.	Come in.
Pase Vd. adelante.	Go first.
Dispense Vd.	Excuse me.

EXERCISE 17

Can you show me Mr. López's house? I will show you his house, if you will accompany me as far as the next corner.

LESSON XVIII

94. Two Pronouns. When two objective pronouns occur with the same verb, the indirect object pronoun stands first.

Me lo dió.

He gave it to me.

Dámelo.

Give it to me.

Si Vd. tiene mis libros, démelos.

If you have my books, give them to me.

a. When the direct object is a pronoun of the first or second person, it is better to express the indirect object in the prepositional form preceded by a.

Te presentó a mí.

He introduced you to me.

Presénteme Vd. a ella.

Introduce me to her.

b. When two pronouns of the third person occur together, the indirect object pronouns le and les assume the form se (derived from Old Spanish ge and not the reflexive se). Thus:

Escribí una carta a mi padre.	I wrote a letter to my father.
Le escribí una carta.	I wrote him a letter.
La escribí a mi padre.	I wrote it to my father.
Se la escribí.	I wrote it to him.

c. The sentence Se la escribí may have six different meanings. To distinguish the various meanings of le, les, and se, use the prepositional forms of the pronouns: thus,

se } to him, a él	se } to them (m.), a ellos
or } to her, a ella	or } to them (f.), a ellas
le } to you, a usted	les } to you (pl.), a ustedes

No se las escribí a ellos.	I did not write them to them.
Quiero decírselo a Vd.	I wish to tell it to you.
A él le mandé un paquete.	I sent him a package.
A ellas no les hablé.	He did not speak to them.

In sentences like these an English speaker is tempted to omit the conjunctive form. Do not omit it, because the prepositional form merely explains the other and is not a substitute or alternative.

95. With hay the personal pronouns usually have the meaning of some.

See section 253 for conjugation of the impersonal verb hay.

¿Dónde hay sastrerías? — Las hay en la calle de Francos.	"Where are there some tailors' shops?" "There are some in Francos street."
¿Hay huevos frescos? — Los hay de primera clase.	"Are there any fresh eggs?" "First-class ones."

96. Muy, very, is a shortened form of mucho; and must be replaced by mucho when occurring alone. The intensified form is muchísimo (muy mucho is not allowable). English much before past participles is muy. (For examples see section 210.)

97. The Possessive Adjectives given in section 37 are shortened forms, used before nouns, of the following:

mío, my	nuestro, our
tuyo, thy	vuestro, your (plur. of tuyo)
suyo { his . . . (de él)	suyo { their (m.) . . . (de ellos)
her . . . (de ella)	their (f.) . . . (de ellas)
your . . . (de usted)	your . . . (de ustedes)

a. These forms are declined to agree with the thing possessed. They stand after the noun, being regularly employed in direct address.

Queridos hermanos míos y queridas	My dear brothers and sisters.
hermanas mías.	(Used by preachers.)
Amigo mío.	Dear Friend. } (Complimentary
Muy señores nuestros.	Dear Sirs. } openings of letters.)

b. When the meaning is indefinite, these forms express the English idiom of mine, of his, etc.: as, un amigo mío, a friend of mine; ciertos libros suyos, certain books of his.

c. On account of the several meanings of su and suyo, the prepositional forms of the personal pronouns may be added after the nouns modified, in which case the possessive adjective may be replaced by the definite article: No tengo su libro de ella, or el libro de ella, I do not have her book.

98. Possessive Pronouns are formed from the possessive adjectives by prefixing the article.

SINGULAR

1. el mío (la mía, los míos, las mías), mine
2. el tuyo (la tuya, los tuyos, las tuyas), yours, thine
3. el suyo (la suya, los suyos, las suyas), his, hers, its, or yours

PLURAL

1. el nuestro (la nuestra, los nuestros, las nuestras), ours
2. el vuestro (la vuestra, los vuestros, las vuestras), yours
3. el suyo (la suya, los suyos, las suyas), theirs or yours

a. The possessive pronouns agree with the thing possessed : Su casa es más grande que la mía o la de usted, *His house is larger than mine or yours.

b. The article may be omitted before a possessive pronoun in the predicate : Este libro es mío, *This book is mine.

c. Los míos, los suyos, etc., may mean My folks, his men, etc.

d. Lo mío, etc., means what is mine : as, Con lo suyo y lo mío es imposible vivir, *On his property and mine it is impossible to live.

99. Idiomatic Expressions.

To inquire one's opinion : ¿ Qué le parece ?

To inquire one's liking : ¿ Cómo le gusta ? or ¿ Le gusta ?

The subjects of the verbs are the things under discussion ; the person who thinks or likes is expressed by an indirect object pronoun. The individuality of the persons may be emphasized by a pronoun in the prepositional form.

¿ Qué le parece este paño ?	What do you think of this cloth ?
A mí no me parece bueno.	I don't think it is good (lit. It doesn't seem good to me).
¿ Cómo le gustan a Vd. las naranjas ? ¿ dulces o agrias ?	How do you like oranges ? sweet or sour ?
Me gustan dulces.	I like them sweet.
¿ Le gustan sus poesías ?	Do you like his poems ?
A mí me gustan muchísimo.	I like them very much.

To invite one to partake : ¿ Gusta Vd. ?

¿ Gusta Vd. comer con nosotros ?	Will you dine with us ?
Con mucho gusto.	With great pleasure.

EXERCISE 18

A. Translate :

3. Referring to some apples (manzanas). I did not buy them of him. Buy them of me. I wish to buy them of you. Did he sell them to him? He sold them to us.

4. Referring to a book (un libro). I read it to her yesterday. He wishes to read it to you. She sent it to me, not to you. He will not send it to her. They will not deliver it to you.

B. 1. Voy a hacer un viaje a Barcelona. ¿Conoce Vd. un buen hotel donde hay ascensor?

— Lo hay en el Hotel de Ambos Mundos. Allí encontrará Vd. buena cama, buenas comidas y servicio excelente.

— ¿Cuáles son las horas de las comidas?

— ¿Cuánto pago?

— De 8 a 12 pesetas diarias según la habitación, todo incluso menos el café y las propinas. Muchos viajeros no toman nada por la mañana. ¿Va Vd. a Barcelona por mar o en ferrocarril?

— Parto para Barcelona en el tren que sale a las diez de la mañana. A mí no me gusta viajar por mar. En los camarotes falta el aire; huelen mal y siempre me marco. Ya he tomado en el despacho de la compañía un billete de primera clase de ida y vuelta. Mi equipaje está en la estación, listo para facturar. Yo mismo debo estar allí media hora antes de la salida del tren. A mi llegada a Barcelona, alquilaré un coche para llevarme a mí y a lo mío derecho al hotel.

— En la frontera se registran los baúles y las maletas en la aduana. Por eso se para el tren casi una hora. También hay fonda si tiene Vd. apetito para comer o beber algo.

2. — ¿Hay buenas tiendas en Barcelona?

(El viajero entra en una tienda)

— ¿Qué desea el señor?

— Sírvaseme enseñarme un traje completo para hombre.

— ¿Qué le parece éste? Es del mejor paño inglés, todo lana, y de un modelo muy moderno.

— ¿Cuánto vale?

— Lo vendo a treinta duros.

— A mí me parece demasiado caro. ¿No hay más barato?

— Más barato sí, pero no tan bueno. Fíjese Vd. en la calidad superior. El precio no es muy elevado y si le gusta el traje, puedo rebajar diez por ciento pagándolo al contado. No puedo dárselo por menos.

— No me gusta el color. Me parece que ese color azul tira a verde. Enséñeme Vd. algo más oscuro. Los colores claros se ensucian fácilmente.

— Pero este color es muy de moda. Vendo muchísimo. Se lo he enseñado a Vd. primero porque lo escogen tantos señores. ¿No quiere probarse el traje? Si le sienta bien, el dependiente puede llevárselo a su casa en seguida.

C. 1. ¿Tiene Vd. su llave o la mía? 2. ¿De quién es este baúl? 3. ¿Cómo le gusta a su hermano la ciudad de Barcelona? 4. ¿Le gusta a Vd. hablar en español? 5. ¿Hay cartas para mí? 6. ¿Dónde hay libros españoles? 7. ¿Qué le parece este traje? 8. ¿Qué tal encuentra Vd. el hotel? 9. ¿Quién le ha dicho que voy a España? 10. ¿Dónde compró Vd. un sombrero tan parecido al mío? 11. ¿Les

EL PASEO DE COLÓN, BARCELONA

Al extremo del paseo alineado con palmeras se encuentra el monumento elevado a Colón. Éste señala al mar, al que debe la ciudad su importancia en el comercio. Tales paseos son los sitios donde a los españoles les gusta pasearse por la tarde. Fué en Barcelona donde los reyes Fernando e Isabel recibieron con gran pompa a Cristóbal Colón cuando regresó de su primer viaje de descubrimiento en 1493. A él le otorgaron un escudo de armas con el célebre refrán,

A Castilla y a León
Nuevo mundo dió Colón

LESSON XIX

100. The Infinitive Mood. A verb in the infinitive mood completes the meaning of the verb, noun, or adjective on which it depends.

No puede trabajar.

He cannot work.

Queremos venir.

We wish to come.

Pienso ir.

I intend to go.

Es preciso hablar español.

It is necessary to speak Spanish.

a. Before a dependent infinitive most verbs require some preposition. The correct preposition must be learned with each verb.

See Appendix II for lists.

Aprende a nadar.

He is learning to swim.

Trataré de ir.

I shall try to go.

Me entretengo con leer.

I amuse myself by reading.

Consienten en venir.

They consent to come.

b. A few verbs, notably seguir, govern the present participle.

Siga Vd. leyendo.

Continue reading.

c. A preposition before the dependent infinitive after some verbs causes those verbs to have a different meaning.

Deber, ought, should.

Dejar, let, allow.

Deber de, must (supposition).

Dejar de, stop, neglect, fail.

No debes leer la novela.

You ought not to read the novel.

Debe de ser tu primo.

It must be your cousin.

Me dejaron salir.

They let me go out.

Ramón dejó de hablar.

Ramón stopped speaking.

No dejó de darme los buenos días.

He did not fail to wish me good morning.

101. Verbs denoting motion have the preposition a before the dependent infinitive.

Viene a verme.

He is coming to see me.

Voy a escribir.

I am going to write.

Subió a hablar con el médico.

He went up to speak with the doctor.

a. The English idiom after verbs of motion frequently has a co-ordinate verb, as go and see. Such expressions in Spanish require that the second verb be put in the infinitive preceded by a.

Fué ella a buscar un hueso. She went and got a bone.

Venga Vd. a verme. Come and see me.

Vaya Vd. a llamar a su padre. Go and call your father.

102. An infinitive dependent on a noun or an adjective is usually connected therewith by the preposition de.

Tenga Vd. la bondad de decirme. Have the kindness to tell me.

Tenemos la costumbre de leer los periódicos. We have the habit of reading the newspapers.

Soy capaz de guardar el secreto. I am able to keep the secret.

a. A few nouns and adjectives have the preposition a before the infinitive.

Estaba atento a mirarme. He was looking at me attentively.

Condena Vd. la propensión a llorar por motivos pueriles. You condemn the tendency to cry for trifling reasons.

103. Verbs denoting a sense-perception, as seeing or hearing, show a dependent infinitive with a subject which is also the object of the principal verb. The two verbs are usually not separated.

¿Oyó Vd. sonar la campanilla? Did you hear the bell ring?

Vi correr a las niñas. I saw the girls run.

104. The dependent infinitive, with some exceptions as in section 103 (see also 106), must not have a subject different from that of the principal verb. Such expressions as He wishes me-to-come require the subjunctive mood (see section 109). But clauses that have the same subject as that of the principal verb are put in the infinitive.

Cree estar enfermo. He thinks he is sick.

Espero llegar mañana. I hope I shall arrive to-morrow.

Creí haberle encontrado. I thought I had found him.

a. Decir should be followed only by a noun clause: Dice que está malo, He says that he is sick.

Vuestra Reverencia me va a dejar coger en la huerta una poca hoja para mis gusanos de seda.
Permitía al sol acariciar sus brazos desnudos.

*Your Reverence is going to let me gather in the garden a few leaves for my silk-worms.
She permitted the sun to caress her bare arms.*

Hizo (or mandó) hacer un traje. He ordered a suit made.
Hace facturar el baúl. He has the trunk checked.

Hacer venir al médico.	To send for the doctor.
Hacer pasar al señor.	To show the gentleman in.

Se ha obstruido la fuente de la cocina. A ver si la arreglas.	The water-pipe in the kitchen is clogged. Let us see if you can fix it.

Esto no quiere decir que el capitán fuese mal soldado; de haberlo sido, no estaría a las órdenes de su tío.

This does not mean that the captain was a bad soldier; if he had been he would not be under the orders of his uncle.

a. De sometimes connects an infinitive with the noun in an adverbial expression of time beginning with a, usually introduced in English by after.

LESSON XX

109. The Subjunctive Mood is used in certain kinds of dependent clauses.

1. Just as a direct command is expressed in Spanish by the subjunctive mood, so is also an indirect command depending on an expression which implies a wish or command.

Escriba Vd. a su padre.

Write to your father.

Quiero que Vd. escriba a su padre.

I wish you to write to your father.

Que el camarero me traiga el café.

Let the waiter bring me the coffee.

Diga Vd. al camarero que me traiga el café.

Tell the waiter to bring me the coffee.

a. The English expression in these cases is usually an infinitive with a subject expressed. Such a construction must not be used in Spanish unless the subject of the infinitive is the same as that of the principal verb.

Quiero ir.

I wish to go.

Quiero que Vd. vaya.

I wish you to go.

b. Sometimes English has a present participle in the dependent clause. Prohibo que tú fumes, I forbid your smoking.

c. Some common verbs that require the subjunctive in dependent clauses for the above reason are querer, to wish	mandar, to order	suplicar	} to request, beg

desear, to desire	permitir, to permit	rogar
decir, to tell		pedir escribir, to write

(when these words express a command)

2. Verbs expressing emotions and mental states require the subjunctive in the dependent clause.

Sentimos que esté malo su hermano.	We are sorry that your brother is sick.
Espero que el médico llegue a tiempo.	I hope the doctor will arrive in time.
Temo que no lo reciba.	I am afraid he will not receive it.

a. Some common verbs of this kind are esperar, to hope	sentir, to regret, feel sorry

temer, to fear	alegrarse de, to be glad
tener miedo de, to be afraid of	dudar, to doubt

3. Whenever the verb in a dependent clause denotes indefinite future time, it requires the subjunctive mood. Such dependent clauses are introduced by conjunctions, as antes (de) que, before	aunque, although	hasta que, until cuando, when	en cuanto, as soon as	mientras, while

Esperará hasta que yo venga.	He will wait till I come.
Mientras seas joven, trabaja.	While you are young, work.

a. It should be observed that when the time is definite after these conjunctions, the indicative is employed.

Mientras era joven, trabajaba yo mucho.	While I was young, I used to work hard.
---	--

4. Whenever a dependent clause denotes the purpose, the result, or the condition of an action, the verb is put in the subjunctive. Common conjunctions which introduce such clauses are para que (a que after verbs of motion), in order that. sin que, without. de modo que (often simply que), so that. con tal que, provided that.

Envío a Carlos a España para que aprenda bien el idioma español.	I am sending Charles to Spain in order that he may learn the Spanish language well.
--	--

Deseo hablar con usted sin que se entere nadie.	I desire to speak with you without anybody's being informed of it.
---	---

Hoy saldrás de la cárcel, con tal que el arriero confirme tu declaración.	You will leave the jail to-day, provided the mule-driver corroborates your declaration.

LESSON XXI

110. The Imperfect Subjunctive has two sets of endings. The stem may be found from the third person singular of the preterit indicative : compró, stem compr-; vendió, stem vend-; tuvo, stem tuv-.

FIRST FORM

-ar VERBS	-er AND -ir VERBS
SING. 1. comprase	SING. 1. vendiese
2. comprases	2. vendieses
3. comprase	3. vendiese
PLUR. 1. comprásemos	PLUR. 1. vendiésemos
2. compraseis	2. vendieseis
3. comprasen	3. vendiesen

SECOND FORM

-ar VERBS	-er AND -ir VERBS
SING. 1. comprara	SING. 1. vendiera

3. comprara	3. vendiera
PLUR. 1. compráramos	PLUR. 1. vendiéramos
2. comprarais	2. vendierais
3. compraran	3. vendieran

111. Sequence of Tenses. Whenever a dependent clause occurs after a principal verb in a past tense the dependent verb must be put in the imperfect subjunctive. The present perfect and the conditional may, however, if the meaning allows it, be followed by a present tense. The following table gives the usual sequence :

MAIN CLAUSE	DEPENDENT CLAUSE
Present Indicative	Present Subjunctive Future Indicative Conditional
Perfect Indicative	Imperfect Subjunctive
Imperfect Indicative Preterit Indicative

Mando que Juan lo haga.	I order John to do it.
Mandaré que Juan lo haga.	I shall order John to do it.
Mandaría que Juan lo haga, pero no sabe hacerlo.	I should order John to do it, but he does not know how.
Mandaría que Juan lo hiciera si fuera posible.	I should order John to do it if it were possible.
He mandado que Juan lo haga mañana.	I have ordered John to do it to-morrow.
He mandado que Juan lo hiciese (or hiciera) ayer.	I ordered John to do it yesterday.
Mandaba que Juan lo hiciese (or hiciera).	I was ordering John to do it.
Mandé que Juan lo hiciese (or hiciera).	I ordered John to do it.

112. Conditional Clauses, contrary to fact, have the verb in the imperfect subjunctive ; the conditional is used in the conclusion.

Si tuviese (or tuviera) papel, escribiría la carta.	If I had paper, I should write the letter.
Si fuera (or fuese) yo en su lugar, no iría.	If I were in his place I should not go.
Amaría mucho a su hijo si le tuviese.	He would love his son very much if he had one.

a. The imperfect subjunctive of the -ra form is frequently used instead of the conditional, but usually implies something unattainable or unreal.

De no obligarlo la necesidad, se hubiera ido sin comprar.	If he had not been compelled by necessity, he would have gone away without buying.
Diera yo por callarlo los días que me quedan de vida.	To avoid speaking of it I would give the days that are left to me to live.
Hubiera querido ser un salvaje.	He would have liked to be a savage.

b. Quisiera used independently means would like with present signification.

Quisiera una habitación amueblada.	I should like a furnished room.
Quisiera que me preste Vd. un peso.	I wish you would lend me a dollar.

c. Ordinary conditions after si have the present or imperfect indicative. Si followed by the conditional has the meaning of whether.

Le pregunté si partiría mañana. I asked him whether he would leave to-morrow.

d. The imperfect subjunctive contrary to fact often appears in clauses introduced by como si, cual si, lo mismo que si, etc.

Me acuerdo como si fuese ayer. I remember as if it were yesterday.

El cielo se incendió con un relámpago más vivo, cual si la chispa eléctrica hubiese estallado encima de nuestras cabezas. The sky was lighted by a brighter flash, as if the electric spark had burst over our heads.

Lo mismo que si fuésemos amigos de toda la vida. Just as if we had been life-long friends.

Un lugareño fué un día a casa de su vecino a rogarle que le prestase su asno. El vecino, quien no estaba dispuesto a prestárselo, contestó que sentía mucho que éste no se lo hubiera pedido antes, pues lo había prestado a otro. Mientras se estaba excusando de este modo, el asno comenzó a rebuznar. — ¡ Oye ! dijo el aldeano. Ése es el asno que Vd. afirma haber prestado. Hay que confesar que Vd. es muy servicial. — Me extraña mucho, repuso el vecino, que Vd. crea más a mi asno que a mí.

2. The address, la dirección.

A1

Sr. D.¹ Guillermo Prieto,

Princesa, 77,

Madrid

PART II

SYSTEMATIC ACCIDENCE AND SYNTAX

CHAPTER I

ORDER OF WORDS

114. Sentences. While the arrangement of words is much freer in Spanish, and the meaning is not so dependent on a fixed order as in English, there are a few notions which the learner should keep in mind. The Spanish sentence aims at a certain balance by putting the longer members of the sentence or clause last. Considering the clause as composed of three members, subject, verb, and complements, the longest of the three may be placed at the end.

Juan vende muchos periódicos.	John sells many newspapers.
El pequeño Juan vende muchos periódicos, or Vende el pequeño Juan muchos periódicos.	Little John sells many newspapers.
Vende muchos periódicos el chico de la gorra roja.	The boy with the red cap sells many newspapers.

a. In questions, the object, unless materially longer than the subject, precedes.

¿Vende muchos periódicos el pequeño Juan?	Does little John sell many newspapers?
---	---

115. Inversion of Verb occurs,

1. Regularly in questions: ¿Qué vende Juan? What does John sell?

2. Frequently for the sake of emphasis :

¡ Ha caído una palma !	A palm tree has fallen ! (said in the stress of excitement at the fact occurring during a storm.)
------------------------	--

3. Generally in relative clauses :

Vino la mujer a quien habían despertado las voces.	The woman whom the cries had awakened came.
El cura entonó la Salve, que repitió la tripulación.	The priest intoned the "Salve," which the crew repeated.

116. A Predicate Adjective is best placed immediately after the verb.

¿ Es interesante el libro ?	Is the book interesting ?
¿ Aquí es bueno el chocolate ?	Is the chocolate good here ?

117. Adverbs, especially those of place and time, may be put for emphasis at the beginning of the sentence.

Aquí se habla español.	Spanish is spoken here.
Bien sé yo.	I know very well.
Mañana viene mi padre.	My father comes to-morrow.

α. But the usual place for adverbs is immediately after the verb.

Estudio siempre mi lección.	I always study my lesson.
Despierte Vd. con cuidado a Rosa.	Wake Rosa carefully.

118. The Adverb no always precedes the verb, but may be separated from it by a pronoun used as an object.

Yo no lo conozco.	I do not know him.
-------------------	---------------------------

α. Used with adverbs or elliptical expressions, no follows the other words.

¡ Hoy no !	Not to-day.
¡ Todavía no !	Not yet.
¡ Eso no !	Not that.

119. A Subject Pronoun may be placed after the verb, but precedes other words.

Soy yo.	It is I.
No quiere ella la manzana.	She does not want the apple.

120. Compound Forms of Verbs should not be separated into their component parts by the intrusion of other words.

¿Ha visto Vd. ?

Have you seen ?

He dicho siempre.

I have always said.

a. Likewise an infinitive closely depending on another verb is commonly not separated from the former except by pronouns.

Vi correr al muchacho.

I saw the boy run.

¿Oye Vd. sonar la campanilla ?

Do you hear the bell ringing ?

Lo admiré al verlo patinar.

I admired him on seeing him skate.

121. Participles and Infinitives having subjects are usually placed before their subjects, contrary to English usage.

Estando la señora en el jardín, le hablé.

The lady being in the garden, I spoke to her.

Conseguida la dispensa eclesiástica, se fijó la boda para las ocho de la mañana.

The dispensation of the church (having been) obtained, the wedding was set for eight in the morning.

Al cumplir la Princesa los quince años era la admiración de la corte.

When the Princess was fifteen years old, she was the wonder of the court.

122. The Preposition a, used to indicate the direct object, makes possible a very free arrangement of words; see section 134.

A Clara la llamó a sí Doña Blanca.

Doña Blanca called Clara to her.

Poco después visitaron a la enferma los dos médicos mejores de la ciudad.

Shortly afterward the two best doctors in the town visited the sick woman.

I lived on the salary which an insurance company paid me. 15. His work finished, he left the office immediately. 16. He saw his father coming. 17. Not now, my son. 18. A month had passed since that day.

¹ Translate in three ways: 1, al with infinitive; 2, the present participle; 3, the past participle.

CHAPTER II

ARTICLES

123. The Definite Article has the following forms :

	MASCULINE	FEMININE	NEUTER
SING.	el	la (el)	lo
PLUR.	los	las	wanting

a. The feminine form el is derived from the old feminine ela. It is used only before nouns beginning with an accented a sound, excepting names of letters :

el ave, the bird
el hacha, the ax

el agua fría, the cold water
el Asia, Asia

Compare

la alta casa, the high house
la América, America

la a, the a la hacienda, the estate

b. The masculine singular el (or feminine el) combines with de or a to form del and al respectively. But the combination does not occur when the article forms part of a title :

El autor de El Trovador.

The author of "El Trovador."

Mandó su poema a El Liberal.

He sent his poem to "The Liberal."

124. Uses of Definite Article. Primarily, the Spanish definite article, in common with the English, denotes a particular individual or a specific object ; but it also has the following uses not found in English.

1. Before nouns denoting general or abstract ideas :

El pan es el sustento diario de los hombres.

Bread is the daily food of men.

La vida es breve.

Life is short.

Los hombres aman la libertad.

Men love liberty.

a. The absence of the article conveys a partitive idea, often expressed in English by some or any, or in the negative by no :

¿ Tiene Vd. pan ?	Have you any bread ?
No tenemos libertad.	We have no liberty.

2. With geographical names,

a. Especially if taken in a general sense and not after a preposition :

Ha corrido la Francia.	He has traveled over France.
But, Está en Francia.	He is in France.

b. Always with some names :

la América del Norte, North America	la Coruña, Corunna
los Estados Unidos, the United States	el Brasil, Brazil el Canadá, Canada	el Japón, Japan el Perú, Peru	la Habana, Havana el Mediterráneo, the Mediterranean

c. Never with others :

Venezuela	Chile	Méjico, Mexico
-----------	-------	-----------------------

3. With proper nouns modified by an adjective, and frequently with Christian names of women :

el pobre Pablo, poor Paul	la Paquita, Fannie
----------------------------------	---------------------------

a. Hence before titles and epithets when not addressing the person :

El general Guzmán.	General Guzmán.
La señora López.	Mrs. López.
Juana la loca.	Jane the Crazy.
But, Buenos días, señor Pérez.	Good morning, Mr. Pérez.

b. Exceptions to a are the titles don, doña, sor, fray.

4. With adjectives used as the name of a language, except after hablar and en :

Aprendo el español.	I am learning Spanish.
¿ Habla Vd. español ?	Do you speak Spanish ?
Escribo en francés.	I write in French.

a. But if an adverb follows the verb, the article is retained :

No hablo bien el castellano. I do not speak Castilian well.

5. With adjectives of nationality, profession, sex, etc., in apposition with a pronoun expressed or understood :

Nosotros los ingleses. We English.

Ustedes las mujeres. You women.

Los profesores comprendemos. We teachers understand.

6. In certain expressions of time, —

a. Those modified by an adjective or a phrase :

el año pasado, last year el martes que viene, next Tuesday

b. Before names of the days of the week except in dates (English usually has the preposition on in similar cases), and before names of the seasons :

La primavera. Spring.

Viene los lunes. He comes on Mondays.

Miércoles, el dos del corriente. Wednesday, the second instant.

7. To express rate where English has the indefinite article, though Spanish sometimes omits the article :

Un peso la vara, or un peso vara. A dollar a yard.

Treinta centavos la docena. Thirty cents a dozen.

8. In speaking of the person or clothing, in place of the possessive adjective :

Córteme Vd. el pelo. Cut my hair.

Tiene puestos los zapatos. He has his shoes on.

9. To modify an infinitive or a clause :

El mentir es un vicio. Lying is a vice.

Me vuelve loco el que no me lleve nunca la contraria. It makes me crazy, the (fact) that you never contradict me.

10. In many adverbial phrases not possible to classify ; as, en la escuela, at school

en la iglesia, at church en el colegio, in high school

a la ciudad, to town

125. The Neuter Article is used with adjectives, making an expression equivalent to an abstract noun. It occurs frequently with past participles and in many adverbial expressions.

No son lo mismo.

They are not the same.

Ama lo bueno.

He loves whatever is good.

Están por lo positivo.

They are for the practical.

Quedamos en lo dicho.

We stuck by what had been said.

Grité y me contestaron a lo lejos.

I shouted and they answered me far off.

a. A peculiar idiomatic use of the neuter article occurs when the modified adjective refers to a word in a following clause, sometimes equivalent to an indirect English exclamatory phrase introduced by how. The Spanish adjective agrees with the noun.

¿Sabe Vd. lo buena que es mi hermana?

Do you know how good my sister is?

A pesar de lo muy agradecidos que estamos.

In spite of how very grateful we are.

b. Lo in the foregoing idiom may be modified by todo: Quería decirle todo lo hermosa que me parecía, I wanted to tell her how very handsome she seemed to me.

126. Omission of Definite Article occurs,

1. Before a noun in apposition with another: el señor F., director del colegio, Mr. F., the principal of the school.

2. Before numbers that are part of the title of sovereigns:

Alfonso Trece es el nieto de Isabel Segunda.

Alfonso the Thirteenth is the grandson of Isabella the Second.

3. Sometimes the omission or use of the definite article gives a different meaning to the phrase:

hacer la cama, to make the bed

dar vuelta a, to turn hacer cama, to be sick abed

dar una vuelta, to take a walk dar la vuelta, to go around

4. In many adverbial expressions:

en Filipinas, in the Philippines en tercera persona, in the third por primera vez, for the first time

person

LA AMÉRICA LATINA

(Los países de habla española en fondo blanco)

127. The Indefinite Article, identical with the numeral one, has the following forms :

	MASCULINE	FEMININE
SING.	uno, un	una

a. The masculine singular is shortened to un before a noun or an attributive adjective. Used alone or as a pronoun, the full form appears.

¿ Tiene Vd. un buen perro ?	Have you a good dog ?
¡ Sí, tengo uno.	Yes, I have one.
Tengo uno muy bueno.	I have a very good one.

b. The feminine, in imitation of the feminine definite article el, usually is un before nouns beginning with an accented a sound.

un ave hermosa, a beautiful bird	un águila pequeña, a small eagle
---	---

128. Use and Omission of Indefinite Article. The indefinite article is used about as in English, but is omitted in the following cases :

1. Before an unmodified noun in the predicate denoting business, profession, party, religion, etc. :

Es sastre.	He is a tailor.
Se ha hecho abogado.	He has become a lawyer.
Es liberal.	He is a liberal.
Soy americano.	I am an American.

a. The indefinite article may be used to attribute a given quality to one's character. Es cobarde, He is a coward (under these circumstances). Es un cobarde, He is a regular coward (by nature).

2. Before nouns in apposition :

Tampico, puerto del golfo de Méjico.	Tampico, a harbor on the Gulf of Mexico.
--------------------------------------	---

3. Before nouns preceded by de in adverbial expressions corresponding to English as a :

Va de cónsul a Méjico.	He goes to Mexico as a consul.
Yo soy un hombre atroz, a quien nadie ha podido aguantar ni de muchacho, ni de joven, ni de viejo.	I am a disagreeable man, whom nobody has been able to endure as a boy, as a young man, nor as an old man.

a. Similarly de denotes apposition between an adjective and a noun or between two nouns.

¡El pobre de Pepe!

Poor Joe!

El marica de Don Cándido.

Don Cándido the old woman.

¡Qué lástima de muchacha!

What a pity about the girl!

4. In many verbal idioms which must be learned by observation :

--------------------------	-----------------------------

131. Compound Nouns. In English a noun may perform the function of an adjective and modify another noun. The combination is written sometimes as one word, as hedgehog; sometimes with a hyphen, as bear's-foot; often as two words, as bond paper. While a few such combinations exist in Spanish, as ferrocarril, railroad, the great majority of English compound nouns must be turned into Spanish by the use of prepositions in various ways, as,

1. The modifying noun follows the other and is connected therewith by de : thus, el reloj de oro, the gold watch

la pluma de acero, the steel pen

2. If the modifying noun denotes use or purpose, para is preferred as the connecting preposition ; as, la taza para café, the coffee cup la máquina para escribir, the typewriter

See further under compound adjectives, section 138.

132. Augmentatives, Diminutives, and other suffixes. Spanish compensates in part for its lack of compound nouns by possessing a large number of suffixes, some of which are classed as augmentatives and diminutives. Though these indicate size, they also denote other ideas such as contempt, affection, irony, disagreeableness, mockery, which in English are often expressed by terms from different stems; as, casa, house; casucha, shanty. Sometimes a word originally a diminutive acquires a specialized meaning; as, cuchara, spoon; cucharita, teaspoon. Many of the suffixes may also be applied to adjectives.

(A complete discussion of the suffixes will not be given, because the learner should not attempt to apply them himself and should rely on the dictionary for any forms other than the simplest.)

1. Augmentatives are

a. -ón, -ona :

silla — sillón, big chair, easy chair

Gaspar — Gasparón, big Gaspar

nariz — narigón, big nose

mujer — mujerona, big strapping woman

b. -azo, -aza : pícaro — picarazo, great rogue.

c. -ete(a), -cete(a), -ecete(a); frequently also depreciative.

caballero — caballerete, dude, dandy

historia — historieta, short story

d. -ejo(a); implies contempt: caballo — caballejo, nag.

e. The augmentatives -ón and -ote sometimes form diminutives:

rata, rat — ratón, mouse

isla, island — islote, islet

3. Various combinations of these suffixes are common:

río — riacho — riachuelo

hombre — hombrón — hombronazo

chico — chiquito — chiquitito, chiquitillo

4. A few Spanish suffixes, not augmentatives nor diminutives, should be known:

a. -ada (capacity), Eng. -ful: cuchara, spoon — cucharada, spoonful.

b. -ada, -azo, a blow with or a wound from.

puñal, dagger — puñalada, dagger thrust, stab wound

bala, bullet — balazo, bullet wound, shot

c. -al, -ar, -eda, a collection, grove, or orchard.

e. -ero(a), the person who makes, manages, or sells things.

zapato, shoe — zapatero, shoemaker or shoe-dealer

molino, mill — molinero, miller — molinera, miller's wife

f. -ía added to -ero : -ería, place of business.

zapatería, shoe shop or collection of shoes

librero, book-dealer — librería, book store

5. The past participle feminine makes nouns denoting the completed action of the verbs.

llegar, to arrive — llegada, arrival

salir, to depart — salida, departure ir, to go

volver, to return } un billete de ida y vuelta, a return ticket

133. Idiomatic Plural. The masculine plural of nouns and pronouns includes the corresponding feminine :

los padres, the parents

los hermanos, brothers and sisters

los hijos, the children

los parientes, the relatives

los señores González, Mr. and Mrs. González los reyes católicos, the Catholic Monarchs (i.e. Ferdinand and Isabella)

α. The titles of offices, being susceptible of misunderstanding, are an exception :

el alcalde y la alcaldesa, the mayor and the mayoress

el presidente y su señora, the president and his wife

134. Objective Case. The preposition a serves to indicate the objective (or accusative) case of nouns when the direct object is —

1. A specific person, intelligent animal, or personified thing :

Vea Vd. a Cecilia.

Look at Cecilia.

No encontré a mi amigo.

I did not find my friend.

Don Quijote cabalgaba a Rocinante.

Don Quixote rode Rocinante.

Las riquezas no siempre tienen por compañera a la alegría.

Riches do not always have joy for a companion.

2. A geographical name without definite article :

He visto a Sevilla.

I have seen Seville.

But, Pizarro conquistó el Perú.

Pizarro conquered Peru.

3. Out of its normal position, or liable not to be recognized :

Al yate alcanzó el vapor.	The steamer overtook the yacht.
Ninguna de las cosas que a la flor hacen bonita.	None of the things which make the flower pretty.
El nombre rige al verbo.	The noun governs the verb.

4. A pronoun, except que and the unaccented object pronouns :

El señor a quien llamé.	The gentleman whom I called.
El hombre que vi.	The man whom I saw.
No conozco a nadie.	I know nobody.

5. Though the preposition a be required by these rules, it is often not used before a word beginning with an a sound, or when there is also an indirect object in the sentence, or a noun governed by the preposition a :

Mira aquel hombre.	Look at that man.
Dió el esclavo a su hijo.	He gave the slave to his son.
Mandó el muchacho a casa.	He sent the boy home.

NOTE. In general, a should be retained before nouns that require it, which is often possible by substituting the passive construction for the active ; as, Se le dió el esclavo a su hijo, The slave was given to his son.

6. Since a proper noun in the objective case always requires the a, two proper nouns governed by a should be avoided by using another expression : thus, instead of Prefirió a Pedro a Juan, say Prefirió el joven Pedro a Juan.

7. With certain verbs, a appears before their personal objects when the verb has a special meaning :

querer, to wish ; querer a, to love tener, to have, usually without a before a personal object, requires it in the idiom tener a uno en cualquier parte perder, to lose ; perder a, to ruin, though sometimes also to lose by death
Quiero un criado.	I wish a servant.
Isabel te quiere como a un hermano.	Isabel loves you as a brother.
Tengo un buen tío.	I have a good uncle.
Tengo a mi tío en Chile.	My uncle is in Chile.

CHAPTER IV

Exceptions are

1. Adjectives of nationality, which add a to a final consonant :

inglés, inglesa, English

alemán, alemana, German andaluz, andaluza, Andalusian

provenzal, provenzala, Provençal

2. Adjectives with the terminations án, ón, or (except comparatives), ete, ote, ín :

chiquitín, chiquitina, tiny burlón, burlona, quizzish

hablador, habladora, talkative

But una hermana mayor, an older sister

la parte superior, the upper part

3. A few adjectives of one termination which add a when used as feminine nouns, especially those ending in al.

la colegiala, the schoolgirl

la superiora, the mother superior

136. Number. The plurals of adjectives follow the rules for the plurals of nouns ; see section 130.

137. Apocopation. See section 46.

1. Grande in the full form is used before nouns beginning with a vowel sound.

una grande abundancia de flores, a great abundance of flowers

un grande hombre, a great man

a. Sometimes also for emphasis; as, Es cosa cierta que nunca grande cosa se hubo sin trabajo, It is certain that no great thing ever came to pass without work.

2. Santo becomes san in names of saints, except before those beginning with To or Do; as, San Pedro, Saint Peter; San Pablo, Saint Paul; Santo Toribio; Santo Domingo; Santo Tomás.

a. The name of the island, however, is San Tomas, with shift of accent due to derivation from English.

b. The adjective santo, and its feminine form in names, have the full form; as, el santo día, the blessed day; Santa María.

3. Ciento becomes cien before nouns: cien mujeres, one hundred women. But the full form occurs in counting above a hundred; as, ciento dos pesos, one hundred and two dollars.

138. Compound Adjectives, like compound nouns, are not very numerous in Spanish. English compound adjectives must usually be translated into Spanish by prepositional phrases.

una niña de ojos azules, a blue-eyed girl

los ricos duros de corazón, the hard-hearted rich

1. When the expression contains two nouns and an adjective, the adjective may agree with either noun:

un sombrero de anchas alas un sombrero ancho de alas } a broad-brimmed hat

2. The repetition of de may be avoided by using other prepositions according to sense:

un bastón con puño de oro, a gold-headed cane

maquinaria para trabajar la madera, wood-working machinery

compañía de seguros contra incendios, fire insurance company

clavos para herraduras de cabeza pequeña, small-headed horse-shoe nails

3. The English suffix -less is translated by the preposition sin :

la telegrafía sin hilos, wireless telegraphy	sierra sin fin, endless saw or band-saw
---	---

4. With proper names and the words brand and color, the preposition may be omitted :

ruedas Pelton, Pelton wheels	guantes color verde aceituna, olive-green gloves
fósforos marca Victoria, Victoria brand matches	el musgo color perla, the pearl-colored moss

139. Position of Adjectives. 1. The will of the writer largely determines whether an adjective shall stand before or after the noun. However, the emphatic position is after the noun; hence, important adjectives that distinguish individuals from others of the same class follow the noun, while those which are characteristic or may apply to all objects of a class precede the noun.

buenos amigos, good friends	claveles blancos, white pinks amigos íntimos, intimate friends	la blanca nieve, the white snow
las bellas flores, the beautiful flowers	una casa costosa, an expensive house

2. When two adjectives come together either before or after the noun, it is customary to write y, and, between them; unless one of the adjectives is so closely connected with the meaning as to make practically a compound noun.

ojos grandes y animados, large animated eyes	el Banco Nacional Americano, the American National Bank
dos largos y tristes meses, two long sad months	aguas minerales extranjeras, foreign mineral waters

3. Groups of modifiers should be arranged so as to restrict the word intended, and with a care for the sound.

Aceiteras de acero sin junta.	Seamless steel oil-cans.
Árboles corpulentos de rugosos troncos formidables abrían en vertiginosas alturas los mil hercúleos brazos de sus ramajes frondosos.	Huge trees with rough formidable trunks opened on dizzy heights the thousand Herculean arms of their leafy branches.

4. The following adjectives are always placed before the noun.
(See also section 142, 6.)

ambos, both

cada, each cuanto, how much demás, other mucho, much, plural many

The cardinal numerals otro, other

poco, little, plural few

¿qué? what?

¿cuál? which?

tanto, so much

todo, every, all

5. Some adjectives have a difference in meaning according as they stand before or after the noun. These differences are usually a distinction between the figurative and the literal meaning, but the adjectives in their literal sense may sometimes be found in good writers placed before the noun.

mi cara madre, my dear mother cierto hombre, a certain man

un gran señor, a great lord

mal café, bad coffee

el mismo día, the same day

un nuevo libro, a new (i.e. different) book

b. A distinction exists between el mismo and un mismo. The latter implies no comparison, one and the same; while the former supposes comparison.

142. The Comparative. See sections 47, 48, 49.

Cuanto más leo este autor, tanto más lo admiro.

The more I read this author the more I admire him.

a. Tanto may be omitted; and mientras may be used instead of cuanto.

The farther the better.

Mientras mayor me represento el amor de Dios, menos celoso estoy

2. Though tan is used with adjectives, the full form tanto must be used with comparatives: tanto peor, so much the worse.

3. The comparative may be intensified by cada vez to denote a gradual increase in degree.

La señora estaba cada vez peor de salud.

The lady became constantly worse in health.

Brillan cada vez más las luces eléctricas.

The electric lights shine brighter and brighter.

4. Indefinite expressions after comparatives are usually in the negative.

5. A redundant no sometimes appears after a comparative.

El guardia parecía ocuparse más de la campiña que no del río.

The watchman seemed to pay more attention to the plain than to the river.

6. The irregular comparatives mejor, peor, menor, and mayor may stand before the noun, but are placed after it when the comparison is not limited, or when the noun is preceded by alguno, ninguno, or otro. Mayor and menor may stand before the noun only in a completed comparison.

The largest house in the quarter.

143. Than after a comparative. See section 49.

1. When the comparison is with a noun in the principal clause, Spanish uses for than del que, de la que, de los que, de las que, according to the gender and number of the noun represented.

Tenía yo menos dinero del que me pidió.

I had less money than he demanded of me.

Hubo más gente de la que invitó.

There were more people than he invited.

¿Son muchos los enemigos? Más de los que esperábamos.

Are the enemy numerous? More than we expected.

2. With a neuter de is used, with a statement de lo que.

Hizo más frío de lo común.

It was colder than usual.

Es más hábil de lo que parece.

He is more skillful than he seems.

144. Más modifies many adverbs of place which have no comparative degree in English, and otherwise forms various idiomatic expressions.

más adelante, later on, farther on más arriba, higher up. más abajo, lower down

más al norte, farther north más bien, rather más acá de, on this side. más allá de, beyond, on the other side

no más . . . que, only : No había más que dos sillas, There were only two chairs

a poco más, nearly : A poco más se muere, He nearly died

145. The Superlative. 1. A possessive adjective may replace the article in forming the superlative.

su poema más interesante, his most interesting poem

mi mejor amigo, my best friend

2. The superlative adjective may stand either before or after the noun ; but in the latter case the article is placed before the noun.

Isabel, sostenida por la mayor y más sana parte del reino, Isabel, supported by the largest and soundest part of the kingdom

las rocas más elevadas, the highest rocks

3. With several adjectives in the comparative or superlative, más or menos is used only once.

las regiones más ricas y fértiles, the richest and most fertile regions

los menos sabios y leídos, the least learned and well-read

4. The superlative adjective in the predicate omits the article when the comparison concerns only the subject of the verb without reference to other nouns or pronouns.

Cuando más alegre estaba, vi que la señora fijó en mí la mirada.

When I was merriest I saw the lady stare at me.

No te cases nunca, Cecilia ; el hombre que mejor parece de novio es el esposo peor.

Never marry, Cecilia ; the man who seems best as a lover is the worst husband.

5. A superlative adjective modifying a noun in apposition with another has the article after the noun.

Gonzalo de Córdoba, general el más ilustre del siglo XV, Gonzalo de Córdoba, the most illustrious general of the fifteenth century

6. The article is not used with the superlative of an adverb unless accompanied by the adjective posible, or an expression denoting possibility; in which case the neuter article is required.

Los cometas aparecen cuando menos se los espera. Comets appear when they are least expected.

Se trataba lo menos posible con los vecinos. He conversed as little as possible with the neighbors.

Huyó lo más de prisa que podía. He ran away as fast as he could.

a. When it is necessary to emphasize or make precise the superlative degree of an adverb, Spanish uses a relative or adverbial clause.

Es Juan el que corre más de prisa. John runs the fastest.

7. Most, as a noun, is la mayor parte de or los (las) más de.

la mayor parte de su dinero, most of his money

los más de los suyos, most of his men

a. Los (las) más may also be used as an adjective; as, las más noches, most nights.

146. Absolute Superlative. 1. When there is no real comparison but the adjective denotes a supreme degree, Spanish applies the ending ísimo to the adjective; as, hábil, skillful — habilísimo, very skillful.

a. A final o or other vowel is dropped before adding the termination, and the rules for spelling (see section 7) must be regarded.

mucho — muchísimo, very much rico — riquísimo, very rich feliz — felicísimo, very happy largo — larguísimo, very long amplio — amplísimo, very ample

c. The original Latin word influences the formation from adjectives having a stem vowel ie or ue, or the terminations ble, fico, volo, or whose Latin superlative ended in rimus or limus. There are also a few unclassified forms from the Latin superlative.

cierto — certísimo, very sure fuerte — fortísimo, very strong noble — nobilísimo, very noble magnífico — magnificentísimo, very magnificent benévolo — benevolentísimo, very benevolent célebre — celebérrimo, very famous fácil — facilimo (also facilísimo), very easy sabio — sapientísimo, very wise fiel — fidelísimo, very faithful

2. The following adjectives have, besides the regular absolute superlative, others derived from the Latin forms:

bueno — bonísimo, óptimo, very good malo — malísimo, pésimo, very bad grande — grandísimo, máximo, very great pequeño — pequeñísimo, mínimo, very small

3. An equivalent for the absolute superlative may be formed by intensifying adverbs modifying the adjective.

muy bueno, very good cantidades sobre manera pequeñas, sumamente fiel, extremely faithful exceedingly small quantities

a. The particle re (rete) may be prefixed to the adjective with the same force:

rebueno, very good; retebien hecho, very well done

147. Adjectives as Nouns. The Spanish adjective may be freely used as a noun to specify individuals. English uses the adjective as a noun only in a limited way, usually supplying words like man, woman, the one, the ones.

¿Vió Vd. al ciego?

Did you see the blind man?

¿Quién es la vieja?

Who is the old woman?

El pequeño es más bonito que los grandes.

The little one is prettier than the big ones.

1. Certain superlative expressions in English supply the words sort, kind, one of; these words are rendered in Spanish by the superlative of the adjective used as a noun governed by the preposition de.

carmesí del más vistoso, crimson of the showiest kind una noche de las más frías de diciembre, one of the coldest December nights

una tarde de las primeras frías de octubre, one of the first cold afternoons in October

a. In a similar way a superlative adjective preceded by de may stand with partitive sense in the predicate.

Los días que pasé en aquella casa fueron de los más tristes de mi vida. The days that I spent in that house were the saddest in my life.

El paño es de primera clase. The cloth is first-class.

2. After a neuter pronoun, as mucho, nada, qué, the adjective preceded by de may be treated as noun and may agree or not in gender and number with the word to which it refers.

¿Qué hay de nuevo? What is there new? (idiomatic English) What is the news?

Aquellos ojos tenían mucho de hermoso or de hermosos. Those eyes were very beautiful.

POSSESSIVES AND DEMONSTRATIVES

161. Possessives. See sections 37, 97, 98.

1. The indefinite use of the possessive adjective occurs also when the adjective stands in the predicate: Son amigos nuestros, They are friends of ours; and between a demonstrative and the noun: este mi amigo, this friend of mine; ese su perro, that dog of yours.

a. Note the expression esta su casa, this your house, in English, my house, a polite reference to one's own residence; see section 85.

2. With parts of the body and clothing, the definite article is frequently substituted for the possessive adjective. The personal pronoun of the indirect object form is used with the verb to indicate the person if necessary. El peluquero le cortó el pelo, The barber cut his hair. (See section 56, b.)

3. The possessive adjectives appear in several expressions like the following:

En torno suyo.	Around him.
En su busca.	In search of him.
A nuestro encuentro.	To meet us.
A su paso.	As she passed.
Miré a mi alrededor.	I looked around me.

162. Demonstratives. See section 34.

1. Referring to time, este denotes present time; ese, a recent period; and aquel, a remote time.

esta noche, to-night
esa tarde, that afternoon
aquel siglo, that century

2. Ese often implies contempt: ese Gómez, that fellow Gómez.

Lorenzo waited at the window Clara's return. She arrived a little while afterwards.

El autor nos enteró de que Guillermo y Carmen se aman, de que aquél elude hablar de matrimonio.

The author informs us that William and Carmen are in love, that the former avoids speaking of marriage.

4. The feminine forms ésta and ésa, referring to ciudad or plaza understood, frequently mean this town (of mine) and that town (of yours). The phrases en (de, a) ésta and en (de, a) ésa may sometimes be rendered simply here and there.

Los precios en ésta han sufrido una alza.

Prices here have risen.

Espero llegar mañana a ésa.

I expect to reach your town tomorrow.

5. As the neuter forms stand for an idea, all three, esto, eso, and aquello, may at times be rendered that.

¿Qué es esto?

What is that? (which I have here).

¿Qué es eso?

What is that? (near you).

Hace muchos años que sucedió aquello.

b. If the relative has indefinite force (see section 166, 3) the verb will be in the third person: Quien va soy yo, I am the one who is going.

CHAPTER XI

PERSONAL PRONOUNS

198. Methods of Address. 1. The forms of the second person singular are used in addressing members of the family, intimate friends, children, or pet animals. Foreign speakers will always use usted with the third person singular of the verb, as this is the form employed by persons who desire to be courteous to each other.

a. Usted is derived from vuestra merced, your grace. Other similar forms are Usía, used in addressing magistrates, lower officers of the army, etc.; Vuecencia, to ambassadors, members of the king's cabinet, etc. The different degrees of nobility also have their proper form of address or tratamiento.

2. The second plural, vosotros, is primarily the plural of tú; but it is sometimes employed in addressing persons collectively, who singly would be addressed by usted: for example, in public speeches, in friendly letters addressed to two or more persons, and in public advertisements.

Vosotros, hijos de la Revolución,	You, sons of the Revolution, are
venís a España.	coming to Spain.

a. The older form vos, instead of vosotros, is still found in prayers, or in literature to represent ancient manners.

Vos, Señor, que sacasteis de la nada	You, Lord, that drew this world
este mundo.	from chaos.

¡Eh! Maestro . . . vos os burláis.	Ah! Master, you are jesting.
---	-------------------------------------

b. Nos for nosotros is used by sovereigns and magistrates, and in religious forms.

Nos el rey.	We the king.
--------------------	---------------------

199. It. 1. As the subject of a verb, it is usually unnecessary in Spanish: llueve, it is raining. When necessary, it will be the masculine él or the feminine ella, according to the gender of the noun represented. Referring to an idea, it is neuter (section 206).

2. Instead of it after a preposition, adverbs of place are sometimes found.

Le dió una cajita. Allí miró la joven esposa con asombro. He gave her a little box. The young wife looked at it with surprise.

a. This use of adverbs of place is also extended to persons.

Se me echa encima. He throws himself on me.
De pronto se me puso delante. Suddenly he stood before me.

200. Le — Lo — La — Les. The objective pronouns of the third person singular are used somewhat indiscriminately by some writers.

1. Le may be the direct object form referring to things.

No hay lazo alguno que conmigo te ligue; y si le hay, yo le desato y le rompo. There is no bond that binds you to me; and if there is any, I unbind it and break it.

2. La and las may be the indirect object feminine.

Cuando la visité, estaba allí su primo y nada la dije. When I visited her, her cousin was there and I said nothing to her.

a. La and las are the proper forms for use with the reflexive verb when used impersonally. See section 273.

Se la admira. One admires her; or, She is admired.
Se las ve venir. They are seen coming.

3. Les may be direct object plural referring to persons.

Les forzaba a partir la poca seguridad de la playa. The insecurity of the beach compelled them to depart.
¡Pobrecitos niños! Todo el mundo sabe que les adoro. Poor children! Everybody knows that I adore them.

NOTE. The student should not imitate the constructions described in this section, but should be guided by the following:

le	{	him or you, direct and indirect	la, her, direct object feminine
		object masculine	les, to them, indirect object masculine and feminine to her, indirect object feminine lo, it or him, direct object masculine			los, them, direct object masculine

201. Indefinite Feminine. The feminine of pronouns often has indefinite force. The form most frequently occurring is la.

Ese hombre la echa de gracioso.

That man pretends to be funny.

La (or las) pagará.

He will pay for it (that is, get his punishment).

¡ Buena la hicimos !

We gave it to them good.

Entonces será ella.

Then will come the pinch.

En éstas y en las otras llegamos a Manresa.

In the meantime we reached Manresa.

Ellos harán de las suyas.

They will play some of their tricks.

202. The Prepositional Forms of the personal pronouns are the only ones which can be used with verbs that require a preposition before the direct object.

El café está en la plaza, y en él entramos a refrescarnos.

The café is on the square, and we entered it for refreshment.

Se casó con ella.

He married her.

No me acuerdo de él.

I do not remember him.

Ella, al reparar en mí, irguió altivamente la cabeza.

When she noticed me, she raised her head haughtily.

a. The prepositional forms are often called disjunctive, because they are not directly dependent on the verb.

203. Redundant Pronoun. Whenever the pronouns le, les, or se are vague in meaning, they may be made definite by the employment of the disjunctive (prepositional) forms.

Le llama a Vd.

He is calling you.

Les enviaremos a ellos las tarjetas.

We shall send the cards to them.

Se las entregó a ella.

He delivered them to her.

i. For the sake of emphasis or contrast, the same construction is frequent with the other personal pronouns.

Esas cosas me hacen más daño a mí que a ti.

Those things hurt me more than you.

A mí me gusta viajar pero a mi madre no le gusta.

I like to travel, but my mother does not like to.

2. This double-pronoun construction has been extended to nouns. Whenever for emphasis the direct or indirect object precedes the verb, the corresponding pronoun is also usually employed.

Le envió a éste un regalo.

He sent the latter a present.

A las señoras les mandó ramos de flores.

To the ladies he sent bouquets of flowers.

La primera muñeca que tuve me la dió él.

The first doll that I had he gave me.

Eso te lo habría dicho tu tía.

Your aunt probably told you that.

a. The neuter indefinite pronoun todo, when the object of a verb, must always be represented by lo.

Mi padre lo sabe todo.

My father knows all.

Quiero confesárselo todo.

I wish to confess everything to you.

Frutas, flores, montes, lagos, ríos, todo lo había en esta tierra bendita.

Fruits, flowers, mountains, lakes, rivers, there was everything in this happy land.

204. Ethical Dative. There is sometimes used a redundant pronoun, indirect object form, of the same person and number as the subject. It appears to give a slight degree of emphasis to the person.

Me lo comeré.

I shall eat it.

Me la he encontrado muriéndose.

I found her dying.

Hemos sacado a esa niña del convento y nos la llevamos a Madrid.

We have taken that girl from the convent and are escorting her to Madrid.

205. Mismo lends emphasis to a personal pronoun like the English self. When mismo emphasizes the subject, the pronoun must be expressed.

Él mismo salió a recibirme.

He himself came out to receive me.

Lo haré yo mismo.

I shall do it myself.

Prometí a mis amigos volver pronto y a mí mismo hacer la visita definitiva.

I promised my friends that I would return soon, and to myself that I would make the visit the last.

a. Propio, own, also intensifies a noun or pronoun:

Mis propias manos.

My own hands.

El propio rey lo hizo.

The king himself did it.

Por sí propio (or mismo).

On one's own account.

206. Neuter Pronouns. 1. The neuter pronoun has the forms

SUBJECT	DIRECT OBJECT	INDIRECT OBJECT	PREPOSITIONAL
ello	lo	le	ello

2. As subject the neuter pronoun is found mainly in the expression ello es (or fué) que.

Ello es que no sabemos nada de lo que hace.	The fact is that we do not know anything of what he does.

3. The neuter forms refer to phrases or ideas without gender.

¿ Cree Vd. lo que dice? Ya lo creo.	Do you believe what he says? I surely do believe it.
-------------------------------------	---

¿ Qué mal hay en ello?	What harm is there in it?
Son las seis de la tarde. Lo ha dicho el reloj de la catedral.	It is six o'clock in the afternoon. The cathedral clock has said it.

Cierta mujer en traje de baile.	A certain woman in evening dress.
¿ Quién era? Lo ignorábamos.	Who was she? We did not know.

Comió demasiado. Por ello tuvo que sufrir una indigestión.	He ate too much. On that account he had an attack of indigestion.

4. After the verb ser, in the predicate, lo refers to the whole phrase rather than to a single word. In such cases no word appears necessary in English; consequently, the student must be careful to employ the pronoun lo when required by Spanish usage.

¿ Son huérfanas? Lo son.	Are the girls orphans? They are.
Irene fué una Venus, es decir, lo fué más tarde.	Irene was a Venus; that is, she was later.

a. Sometimes the English word corresponding to lo is so.

Parece viejo sin serlo.	He seems old without being so.
No bien deseaba una cosa (a veces sin decirlo), me la proporcionaba.	No sooner did I desire a thing, sometimes without saying so, than he got it for me.

b. If the pronoun refers to a definite person it takes the gender and number of the noun to which it refers or may be omitted.

¿ Es Vd. la señora de González?	Are you Mrs. González? I am,
Para servir a Vd., la soy.	at your service.

5. Whenever a second verb in a clause refers to a foregoing predicate noun, adjective, or adverb, it is customary to insert lo.

Si tal o cual recibo es falso o no lo es. If such and such a receipt is false or not.

6. Instead of repeating a verb, one may substitute hacer and the neuter lo.

Todos examinaron el bicho, y yo después también lo hice. All examined the bug, and afterwards I too did so.

Ella me invitó a sentarme en el sofá y lo hizo también. She invited me to sit on the sofa, and she did so too.

207. Position. The remarks about the position of the personal pronouns (sections 81; 68, a; 91) require the following additions:

1. As a matter of style an unemphatic pronoun rarely begins a sentence except in conversation, but is appended to the verb.

Servíalo en silencio. She served him in silence.

Abriéronse las iglesias. The churches were opened.

2. When several verbs occur in series, if one of them has a pronoun it is appended to the verb.

Sacó papel del bolsillo, redactó una carta, púsole el sobre, pególo y echóse a reír. He took paper from his pocket, composed a letter, put it in an envelope, sealed it, and began to laugh.

3. The pronoun may be attached to the auxiliary of a compound verb, but never to the past participle, though this is found in older writers and occasionally even now.

Habíanos visto. He had seen us.

Siente haberle expuesto a perder la vida. She regrets having exposed you to lose your life.

Después de haberla leído y héchote cruces. After having read it and crossed yourself.

4. With the verbs poder, querer, deber, ir, salir, volver a, haber de, and other similar verbal expressions, the pronoun may stand before the auxiliary verb or be attached to the dependent infinitive.

Se lo puedo enviar a Vd. } Puedo enviárselo a Vd. } I can send it to you.

¿ Me quiere Vd. vender la casa ? }

¿ Quiere Vd. venderme la casa ? }

Les vuelvo a suplicar.

Inclinó la frente. Pronto volvió a alzarla.

¿ Dónde se ha de colocar Eduardo ?

La niña no ha de negarme la obediencia.

Will you sell me the house ?

I beg you again.

He bowed his forehead. Soon he raised it again.

Where is Edward to put himself ?

The girl shall not refuse me obedience.

5. In the progressive (periphrastic) conjugation (see section 258), the pronouns may stand before the auxiliary or be attached to it or to the present participle.

La costa se iba alejando }

Íbase alejando la costa }

La costa iba alejándose }

The coast kept getting farther away.

LA CIUDAD DE AVILA

Ávila está cercada de murallas muy bien conservadas que fueron construídas en el siglo once. El reino de Castilla tuvo este nombre de las muchas castillas que construyeron los cristianos en la tierra reconquistada. Los cristianos no vencidos por los moros se refugiaron bajo el jefe Pelayo en Asturias en 718. Comenzaron desde allí una guerra de reconquista que tuvo su mayor éxito primero en la conquista de Toledo en 1085 y después en la derrota de los moros en la batalla de Las Navas de Tolosa in 1212. Conquistadas Córdoba en 1236 y Sevilla en 1248, no quedó más reino moro en la península que el de Granada

CHAPTER XIV

VERB FORMS

238. The changes in form which a verb undergoes are classified by voice, mood, tense, number, and person. The Spanish verb makes these changes by means of endings and auxiliaries. Their systematic arrangement is called conjugation.

239. Verbs are divided into three classes according to the endings of the infinitive :

I. -ar

II. -er

III. -ir

But the -er and -ir verbs differ in only four forms ; namely, the infinitive, the first and second persons plural of the present indicative, and the second person plural of the imperative.

240. Regular Verbs.

242. Orthographic Changes. As a Spanish verb throughout its conjugation maintains the sound of the final consonant of the radical, it is necessary at times to change the spelling to preserve the sound. See section 7 for changes in spelling.

a. The following table shows changes of spelling which occur in both regular and irregular verbs.

Other forms of reflexive verbs are formed in a similar way. The pronouns precede the verb except the infinitive, the present participle, and the positive imperative, to which the pronoun is appended. A written accent is required whenever, by the addition of this extra syllable, the spoken accent is thrown farther back than the second syllable from the end of the word. Before nos the final s of the first person plural, and before os the final d of the second person plural, are dropped.

Thus, levantemos + nos gives levantémonos levantad + os gives levantaos

But id + os gives idos, from irse, to go away

CHAPTER XV

SYNTAX OF VERB. TENSES

259. Agreement. A verb must agree in person and number with its subject.

Yo estudio ; tú juegas.

I study ; you play.

Eran las once de la mañana.

It was eleven in the morning.

260. Person. If the subject has different persons, the verb will have the first person in preference to the second or third, and the second in preference to the third.

Él y yo íbamos en el mismo tren.

He and I were traveling in the same train.

Ella cree que tú y yo nos entendemos.

She believes that you and I have an understanding.

Tú y Juan no os amáis.

You and John do not love each other.

a. A relative pronoun, as the subject of a verb, has the same person as its antecedent. See section 164, 5.

Iré yo que soy más joven.

I will go who am younger.

Tú eres un pastelero que siempre quieres quedar bien con todo el mundo.

You are a trimmer who always wants to be on good terms with everybody.

261. Number. A compound subject requires a plural verb.

El vino y el aceite se venden bien. . Wine and oil sell well.

1. But if the verb precedes the compound subject, it sometimes agrees with the first noun only.

Se vende mucho vino y aceite.

Much wine and oil are sold.

2. A singular noun or pronoun is frequently used to sum up a series, in which case the verb is singular.

Café, caña de azúcar, algodón, tabaco y cochinilla, todo se produce con facilidad. Coffee, sugar-cane, cotton, tobacco, and cochineal, all are easily produced.

a. Two or more singular subjects, closely related in thought but not connected by a conjunction, may be followed by a singular verb.

La profesión, el partido político, la vida entera de muchos hombres pende de casos fortuitos. The profession, the politics, the whole life of many men depend on chance circumstances.

3. Two or more neuters take a singular verb; hence, two infinitives with a singular verb is common. If, however, it is desired to emphasize each idea by way of contrast, the article is used before each neuter, followed by a plural verb.

Sería difícil el moralizar y evangelizar a estas gentes. To make moral these peoples and Christianize them would be difficult.

Saber teología y no saber montar desacreditaba a D. Luis a los ojos de su primo. To know theology and not to know how to ride discredited Louis in the eyes of his cousin.

El oír y el entender no son lo mismo. Hearing and understanding are not the same.

4. Words connected by ni . . . ni, o . . . o, or similar connectives may take a plural or a singular verb according to sense, but require different verbs to show the person when the person differs in the several clauses.

Ni uno ni otro es mi padre. Neither one is my father.

Era un joven de una belleza que ni la penitencia ni la agonía habían podido eclipsar. He was a young man of a beauty which neither fasting nor the hour of death had been able to eclipse.

O Vd. es loco o yo lo soy. Either you are crazy or I am.

5. Collective nouns may be followed by either a singular or a plural verb, according as the whole or its component parts are uppermost in mind.

El día de su salida acudieron a saludarlo muchas personas. Gran parte fué con él hasta la Guaira y no se apartaron hasta perder de vista el barco que lo conducía a la Habana.

On the day of his departure many persons came to pay their respects. A large number went with him as far as La Guaira, and did not disperse until the vessel which was taking him to Havana was lost from sight.

6. With ser the subject rather than the predicate noun determines the number; but if the subject is separated from the verb while the predicate noun comes close after it, the verb may agree with the predicate noun in both person and number.

Sus colecciones eran una maravilla.

His collections were a marvel.

El alquiler de esta casa son mil pesetas al año.

The rent of this house is one thousand pesetas a year.

Son los cuadros de Murillo lo que más me gusta en Sevilla.

Murillo's paintings are what I like best in Seville.

But, Los cuadros de Murillo es lo que más me gusta en Sevilla.

262. Present Tense. 1. The Spanish present tense indicative, generally used as in English, may also represent an action which began in the past but is still continuing in the present. English has the present perfect.

¿Desde cuándo está Vd. aquí?

Since when have you been here?

Estoy aquí desde ayer.

I have been here since yesterday.

Sesenta años llevo sirviendo al rey.

I have spent sixty years serving the king.

a. After the impersonal verb hace with expressions of time, the present tense is frequent.

Hace días que no la veo.

It is days since I have seen her.

Hace dos meses que estoy aquí.

I have been here for two months.

2. In lively narrative, the present is sometimes used instead of the preterit.

Estaban ciegos de cólera. Me entero del motivo de la disputa, les digo que unos y otros están equivocados y se ponen furiosos contra mí.

They were blind with anger. I learned the cause of the dispute and told them they were both wrong, and they got angry at me.

3. The present also appears for the future, especially in offers.

Si quieres que me marche, mañana salgo para Barcelona, y espero allí a embarcar.

If you wish me to go, I will leave to-morrow for Barcelona and wait there to embark.

Se lo doy a Vd. por dos pesetas.

I will give it to you for two pesetas.

4. The present tense is employed in certain idiomatic expressions, as

A poco más se muere.

He almost died.

Tropezó y por poco se cae.

He stumbled and almost fell.

263. Imperfect, Preterit, and Present Perfect compared and contrasted in their regular uses, see sections 63, 65, and 73.

264. Imperfect Indicative. 1. The imperfect tense, indicative, has the force of the English pluperfect when used with expressions of time denoting a continuance of the action.

Hacía dos años que estaba en
Madrid.

I had been in Madrid two years.

2. The imperfect indicative may appear in place of the conditional.

Una de las cosas que hacía, si llegara a tocarme un buen premio, era regalarle al portero el panta-lón mío de cuadros.

One of the things which I should do, if I happened to win a good prize, would be to give the janitor my checked trousers.

265. Preterit Perfect, or past anterior, indicative, is used after conjunctions which denote time, as apenas, scarcely; así que, as soon as; después que, after; etc.

Mi amo apenas me hubo visto cuando me llamó por mi nombre.

Scarcely had my master seen me when he called me by name.

Después que hubieron salido del aposento.

After they had left the apartment.

a. The simple preterit is generally employed instead of the compound preterit.

Así que se marchó el médico.

As soon as the doctor had gone.

b. The conjunctions compounded with que lose their first element if the participle stands first.

Echado que hubo pie a tierra.

As soon as he had set foot on the ground.

Salido que hubieron del aposento.

After they had left the apartment.

Sentado que se hubo ella.

When she had seated herself.

266. Future. The future indicative may denote probability.

Serán las doce.

It is probably twelve o'clock.

¿Vd. sabrá bastante contabilidad y tendrá buena letra? No, señor, no la tengo muy buena ni muy mala siquiera. No sé leer.

I suppose you know bookkeeping and write a good hand? No, sir, I don't write a very good hand nor even a very bad one. I can't read.

a. The future tense is frequent in rhetorical questions that are considered undeniable by the speaker.

¿Habrá desgracia mayor?

Can there be a greater misfortune?

¡Qué ojos los de aquella niña!

"What eyes that girl has!"

—¿Serán más hermosos que los suyos? pregunté.

"Can they be handsomer than yours?" I asked.

b. For haber de and ir a as paraphrases for the future, see sections 107, 3; and 60.

267. The Future Perfect has uses corresponding to those of the simple future.

¡Qué asombro habrá sido el de Vd.!

What astonishment yours must have been!

268. The Conditional may be employed like the future, to denote probability, when referring to past time.

Serían las tres de la madrugada.

It was probably three in the morning.

Podría tener a la sazón catorce años.

He might have been at that time fourteen years old.

Juan no vino. Estaría enfermo.

John did not come. I suppose he was sick.

269. Impersonal Verbs. Verbs that are used only in the third person singular are called impersonal. See section 252

1. Verbs denoting phenomena of nature are impersonal in both Spanish and English.

Llueve.

It is raining.

Va a helar.

It is going to freeze.

Está nevando.

It is snowing.

2. Ser with adjectives and a few nouns is common in the impersonal use.

Es justo.

It is right.

Fué claro.

It was evident.

Fuerza es confesar.

It must be confessed.

3. Spanish has many impersonal expressions which correspond to personal expressions in English. The person concerned in the action of the Spanish verb is expressed by the indirect object

A mí no me importa.

I don't care. (Lit. It doesn't matter to me.)

No me conviene vender.

It doesn't suit me to sell.

Le toca a Vd. hablar.

It is your turn to speak.

4. Many reflexive verbs are used impersonally. As the person concerned is expressed by the indirect object pronoun, these verbs may be said to have an impersonal conjugation. See section 256.

Se me figura.

I imagine.

Se me olvida.

I forget.

Se nos ocurre.

There occurs to us.

¿Qué se te ofrece?

What is the matter?

A D. Luis se le figuraba que iba a deslustrar su gloria.

Louis fancied that he was going to blast his reputation.

CHAPTER XVI

PASSIVE VOICE. PARTICIPLES

270. Passive Voice. The passive voice indicates that the action is performed upon the subject; as, The dog was kicked by the boy. The person performing the action is called the agent; as, boy in the example.

1. In Spanish the passive voice is formed by the combination of the auxiliary verb ser and the past participle of the verb, which must agree in gender and number with the subject. See section 254 for conjugation.

a. Other verbs than ser are sometimes joined with the past participle in the formation of the passive voice: as. quedar, hallarse, encontrarse, verse, andar, ir.

Queda explicado en la página 20.	It is explained on page 20.
Las tropas se hallaban mandadas por buenos oficiales.	The troops were commanded by good officers.
En el fondo del lienzo se veía pintado otro cuadro.	In the background of the canvas was painted another picture.
Van incluídas muchas fotografías en el diccionario.	Many photographs are included in the dictionary.

2. The agent in Spanish is introduced by por; or, in case the action is mental, by de.

César fué asesinado por Bruto.	Cæsar was assassinated by Brutus.
César fué respetado de todos.	Cæsar was respected by all.

271. The passive voice is little used in Spanish. On the other hand, it is commonly employed in English for the following purposes:

(1) To give prominence to the thing acted on by placing it at the beginning of the sentence as the subject of the passive verb.

(2) To make a statement indefinite.

Now Spanish, using the active voice, obtains the same results as follows :

1. By reason of the personal a (see section 134) which allows the object to stand first in the sentence.

A Carlos V sigue Felipe II.

Charles V is succeeded by Philip II.

2. Indefiniteness is obtained by the use of the third person plural. (See section 196.)

Me llamaron a las cinco.

I was called at five o'clock.

Sintió que le tocaban en la espalda.

He felt himself touched on the shoulder.

3. By substituting the reflexive verb ; see section 272.

272. Reflexive Substitute for Passive. As a substitute for the passive voice, the reflexive verb is most important.

Puede decirse.

It may be said.

Se han mandado los efectos por el vapor Caracas.

The goods have been shipped by the steamer Caracas.

Se daba la orden de ataque.

The order for attack was given.

Diéronseles las mejores armas.

The best arms were given them.

a. As with the true passive, the agent may be introduced by por after a reflexive verb.

Firmóse la concordia primero por él y después por el rey.

The agreement was signed first by him and afterwards by the king.

b. The reflexive substitute for the passive occurs frequently in signs and general statements.

Se vende la casa.

The house is for sale.

Se prohíbe fumar.

Smoking forbidden.

Aquí se habla español.

Spanish spoken here.

Se dice.

It is said. (People say. They say.)

Se alquila.

For hire (or rent).

273. Impersonal Reflexive. The reflexive verb used impersonally as a substitute for the passive voice conveys an idea of indefiniteness. Se, in the popular mind, acquires almost the meaning of somebody or people.

Se nos pregunta por correo.

We are asked by mail. (Lit. It is asked us by mail.)

Se procesa a los criminales.

The criminals are prosecuted.

Se me busca a mí.

I am being looked for.

Se va a salir de la iglesia.

People are about to come out of the church.

274. Present Participle. The present participle, or gerund, has many uses. It never changes its form; and may have a subject different from that of the principal verb. It may denote —

1. Time.

Nos conocimos siendo niños.

We became acquainted when we were children.

2. Manner.

Ve corriendo.

Go on the run.

3. Means.

En otros siglos hubiera logrado su propósito pagando un asesino.

In other centuries he would have achieved his purpose by paying an assassin.

4. Cause.

No yendo nosotros, supongo que no irás tú.

Since we are not going, I suppose you will not go.

Siendo ella bonita y Luciano distinguido, hacían una buena pareja.

As she was pretty and Luciano distinguished, they made a fine couple.

5. The only preposition used with the gerund is en; which then means after.

En muriendo ella, saldrás de aquí.

After she dies, you will get out of here.

6. The gerund must not be used as an adjective. Spanish has many adjectives derived from the Latin present participle in ante or ente, which take its place.

una cesta colgante, a hanging basket

agua corriente, running water

a. If no adjective exists to express the idea, a relative clause must be employed.

Remito a Vd. cuatro cajas que contienen cien fusiles. I send you four boxes containing a hundred rifles.

275. Periphrastic Conjugation. The present participle is used with verbs to denote progressive action, whenever it is desired to emphasize the progressive character of the act. The weak English progressive is usually the corresponding simple tense form.

She is singing.

Ella canta.

She was singing.

Ella cantaba.

But, Ella estaba cantando en el momento en que entré.

She was singing at the time when I stepped in.

The verb estar most frequently occurs as the auxiliary in the periphrastic conjugation; but other verbs, as hallarse, encontrarse, venir, andar, quedar, are employed and give great precision to the idea. With verbs denoting movement ir is especially common. The present participle with these words is closely allied to its use in expressing manner. For the progressive conjugation see section 258.

Pedro está construyendo una tapia.

Peter is building a wall.

He estado arreglando la habitación.

I have been putting the room in order.

Conforme ella iba leyendo la carta, iba poniéndose pálida.

As she continued reading the letter she kept growing paler and paler.

Los relámpagos fueron siendo menos frecuentes.

The flashes of lightning kept getting less frequent.

La casa de Cerinola venía cayendo desde tiempo del padre de Luis.

The house of Cerinola had been decaying since the time of Louis' father.

Un día el pintor andaba recorriendo las iglesias de Madrid.

One day the painter was visiting the churches of Madrid.

276. Past Participle. With auxiliary verbs the Spanish past participle forms compound tenses and the passive voice. See sections 241, 254.

1. With haber, the past participle is invariable; with other verbs it agrees with the subject.

Ha escrito la carta.

He has written the letter.

Tengo la carta que ha escrito.

I have the letter which he has written.

Está }
Queda } escrita la carta.

The letter is written.

Fué escrita la carta.

The letter was written.

2. Tener may be used, with transitive verbs only, as an auxiliary when attention is directed to the state of the direct object rather than to the process indicated by the verb. The participle then agrees with the direct object.

Lo que más dañaba a la división
eran unas piezas que los carlistas tenían situadas en un cerrillo.

What most harmed the division was a couple of guns which the Carlists had located on a knoll.

¿Cómo decirle que la tengo engañada?

How tell her that I keep her deceived?

a. Llevar is sometimes used like tener as an auxiliary verb.

Llevo escrita la carta.

I have got the letter written.

3. Ser cannot be the auxiliary with an intransitive verb.

Han ido.

They are gone.

Ha muerto.

He is dead.

4. Some past participles have an active meaning; but they are usually applicable only to human beings.

Un hombre muy leído.

A well-read man.

Es cansado.

He is tiresome.

agradecido, grateful

parecido, similar, like atrevido, bold

porfiado, obstinate callado, silent

sentido, sensitive divertido, merry

sufrido, patient and many others.

5. The past participle may be used absolutely; in which case it usually stands first in the clause. English commonly requires in the corresponding construction that the present participle of an auxiliary precede the past participle.

Dicho esto, salió.

Having said this, he went out.

A mí, muerta la señora Condesa, nada me puede interesar de aquella casa.

As for me, now that the countess is dead, nothing in that house can interest me.

6. The means whereby the action of a past participle is carried out is usually introduced by de.

La tierra está cubierta de nieve.

The earth is covered with snow.

Fué cargado de hierros.

He was loaded with irons.

7. The prepositions antes de, después de, luego de, and para may govern an absolute participial construction, in which the noun is often in reality the subject of a passive verb.

Después de cerradas las puertas, empezó la conferencia.

After the doors were closed the lecture began.

Luego de vuelto le vi.

After he returned I saw him.

Las ideas no eran para reveladas a su sobrina.

The ideas were not (such as) to be revealed to his niece.

CHAPTER XVII

INFINITIVE AND SUBJUNCTIVE MOODS

277. Infinitive Mood. See Lesson XIX, Part I, for discussion of this mood before reading the following additions.

1. Infinitives completing the sense of impersonal verbs or of predicate nouns and adjectives stand without a connecting preposition.

Importa saber.

It is important to know.

Es fácil equivocarse.

It is easy to be mistaken.

Es lástima perder el tiempo.

It is a pity to waste time.

a. If the dependent verb has a subject expressed by a noun, or by a pronoun other than the indirect object pronoun, it is better to replace the infinitive by a clause having the verb in the subjunctive mood.

Tiempo es de partir.

It is time to leave.

Tiempo es de que tú te vayas.

It is time for you to leave.

Me es imposible salir.

It is impossible for me to go out.

Es imposible que salgan los niños.

It is impossible for the children to go out.

2. An infinitive connected with an adjective by the preposition de often has a passive force. Such verbs are usually reflexive.

Esta fruta es buena de comer.

This fruit is good to eat.

Es digno de notarse.

It is worth noting.

3. Infinitives often stand alone after relative and interrogative pronouns in cases where some auxiliary like poder or deber can be introduced.

No tengo a quien dirigirme.

I have nobody to whom to apply.

No sé qué decir.

I do not know what to say.

4. With the indefinite pronouns algo, nada, mucho, poco, and nouns denoting something indefinite, infinitives may stand after the connective que.

Nada tengo que decir.

I have nothing to say.

Deja mucho que desear.

It leaves much to be desired.

El mancebo esperaba cantidades que anotar.

The clerk was waiting for figures to take down.

5. Infinitives are sometimes used as imperatives, frequently introduced by a, and often in exclamations which repeat a previous statement.

¡Ea! despejar, que voy a echar la llave.

Come! Clear out, I am going to lock up.

¡Pues a dormir, caballeros!

Well, sirs. to bed!

¡Pagarme Vd. a mí!

You pay me!

278. Subjunctive Mood. The subjunctive mood conveys an idea of indefiniteness. Hence, in addition to the uses of the dependent subjunctive already given, Lessons XX and XXI, there are the following. The verbs of dependent clauses take the subjunctive,

1. When they depend on questions, or on any construction, implying restriction or a negative:

¿Quién asegura que sean ciertas estas noticias?

Who vouches for it that this news is true?

Yo no tenía persona que me aconsejara.

I had nobody to advise me.

No creo que ningún griego haya estado tan contento como yo lo estaba.

I do not believe any Greek has been as satisfied as I was.

2. After impersonal expressions unless these state a certainty:

Es posible que sea ella mi madrastra.

It is possible that she may become my stepmother.

Mejor es que no juguemos a los naipes.

It is better for us not to play cards.

¿Qué importa que yo esté mejor o peor?

What does it matter whether I am better or worse?

But, Es cierto que ninguna obra de semejante antigüedad se ha conservado tan bien.

It is certain that no work of such antiquity has been preserved so well.

3. In indefinite relative clauses and those with an indefinite antecedent :

Haré lo que Vd. me mande.

I will do whatever you command me.

¿ Hay quien pueda salvarla ?

Is there anybody who can save her ?

Quiero un muchacho que lleve esta carta al correo.

I want a boy to take this letter to the post-office.

4. In clauses presenting alternatives :

Ya me quites la vida, ya me la dejes, morirás ahorcado.

Whether you take my life or grant it to me, you will die on the gallows.

Tuviésemos o no dinero, fuese de día o de noche, ardiese la tierra bajo el sol del verano, o estuviese cubierta de una vara de nieve.

Whether we had money or not, whether it was day or night, whether the earth was burning beneath the summer sun or whether it was covered by a yard of snow.

5. In any clause which implies indefiniteness, concession, or the like, and is introduced by an adverb of doubt, a conjunction, or a conjunctive phrase ; after the same conjunction may appear the indicative if the clause denotes certainty :

Voy a referir cosas que acaso Vd. ya sepa.

I am going to relate things which perhaps you already know.

Con una condición me callo, y es que no te vayas de mi lado.

On one condition I will be silent, and that is that you do not leave me.

No hay desgracia en el mundo, por grande que sea, que no pueda ser mayor.

There is no misfortune in the world, however great it may be, which cannot be greater.

Busqué un sitio donde pudiera dormir.

I looked for a place where I might sleep.

6. After superlatives or negatives if the writer wishes to make the statement more modest or less sweeping:

No hay la menor ofensa en que yo la acompañe.	There is not the slightest offense in my accompanying you.
Nada indicaba que tuviese tan grande animosidad contra mí.	Nothing indicated that he had such great animosity toward me.
Ésta será la última carta que yo escriba a Vd.	This is the last letter that I shall write you.

7. In both principal and subordinate clauses of many expressions denoting indifference, are found the present, the imperfect, and the future tenses of the subjunctive:

Sea como sea.	Be it as it may.
Fuera como fuese, las circunstancias le favorecerían.	However it was, circumstances would favor him.
Quienquiera denota persona indeterminada, alguno, sea el que fuere.	Quienquiera denotes an indefinite person, any one, whoever it may be.
Valga lo que valiere.	Take it for what it may be worth.
Venga lo que viniere.	Come what may.

279. Unreal Conditions expressed by the imperfect subjunctive may have the imperfect subjunctive in the conclusion as well as in the condition, especially if the condition is placed first with the omission of si. The second clause must then be connected by y or que.

Si te hubieras ido no hubieras presenciado esta victoria.	If you had gone you would not have witnessed this victory.
Pidiera ella mi protección y (or que) yo se la dispensara.	Should she ask for my protection, I would give it to her.

a. The imperfect subjunctive may appear in the conclusion of a condition which is not expressed.

REPASO DE LA GRAMÁTICA

NOTE. The object of the following review is to supply the technical terminology of Spanish grammar. Not only are the correct terms given to use in classroom discussion, but also idiomatic forms of expression, which cannot be found in books that merely print in the body of the text the Spanish terms after the English. To preserve the idiom the review is not a translation of the English text; therefore the study of facts must be supplemented from the text. To make this easier the sections bear corresponding numbers. The early sections of the review are fuller because the later paragraphs involve fewer new words. As those who make use of this review should adopt a comparative method of study, the special words are not given in the vocabulary. To teachers who desire it, opportunity is thus afforded for both intelligent and idiomatic conversation about grammar.

1. Alfabeto. El alfabeto castellano consta de veinte y ocho signos o letras; a los cuales pueden agregarse otros dos, k y w, que se emplean en voces de idiomas extranjeros.

2. Vocales. Las vocales representan sonidos producidos cuando vibra la laringe. Llámense fuertes las vocales a, e, o: débiles i, u.

3. Diptongos. La combinación de dos vocales pronunciada de un solo golpe se llama diptongo, y la de tres, triptongo. El castellano forma diptongos uniendo una de las vocales fuertes, a, e, o, con cualquiera de las dos vocales débiles, i, u. Forman diptongo también las dos débiles. En un diptongo o triptongo prevalece siempre la vocal fuerte; y de dos vocales débiles la última.

4. Triptongos. En los triptongos se combinan dos vocales débiles con una fuerte. Son cuatro, íái, uái, íéi, uéi.

5. Consonantes. Las demás letras del alfabeto se llaman consonantes porque suenan con las vocales.

8. Acento es la mayor intensidad en la pronunciación de determinada sílaba de una palabra. Acento se denomina también el signo ortográfico, la rayita, que se pone frecuentemente sobre la vocal de la sílaba acentuada. El acento divide las palabras en tres clases, agudas, llanas, y esdrújulas. Son agudas aquéllas cuyo acento carga en la última sílaba; llanas, aquéllas cuya pronunciación grava la penúltima; y esdrújulas las que llevan la fuerza de la pronunciación a la antepenúltima.

9. Acento Ortográfico. (1) Las voces agudas de más de una sílaba acabadas en vocal se acentúan: café, rubí, amará; y las que terminan en las consonantes n o s: amarán, inglés. Las voces llanas terminadas en consonante, con excepción de n o s, se acentúan: árbol, virgen, amigos. Acentúanse todos los esdrújulos: pálido.

La Gramática de la Real Academia Española da además las siguientes reglas para la acentuación ortográfica. (Los números se refieren al párrafo 9 de este libro.)

«Las palabras que terminan en una vocal débil con acento prosódico seguida de un diptongo y s final, lo cual ocurre en ciertas personas de verbos, llevarán acento ortográfico en dicha vocal débil: decíais.

(2) En las voces donde haya encuentro de vocal fuerte con una débil, ésta llevará acento ortográfico si sobre ella carga la pronunciación: día, tíos, baúles.

Si hay diptongo en la sílaba de dicciones agudas, llanas o esdrújulas que, según lo prescripto, se deba acentuar, el signo ortográfico irá sobre la vocal fuerte o sobre la segunda si las dos son débiles: buscapié, después, benjuí, Cáucaso.

(5, a) A esta última regla se ajustan las voces monosílabas de verbo con diptongo: fué, fuí, dió, vió.

(5) El adverbio aun precediendo al verbo no se acentúa, porque en este caso forman diptongo las dos vocales; pero se acentuará cuando vaya después del verbo, porque entonces se pronuncia como voz aguda bisílaba.

El triptongo se acentúa en la vocal fuerte: amortiguáis, despreciéis.

(5) Los monosílabos nunca necesitarían llevar el acento escrito, pues no pueden acentuarse sino en la única sílaba existente; no obstante, se escribe el acento cuando existen dos monosílabos iguales en su forma, pero con distinta función gramatical, en una de las cuales lleva acento prosódico y en otra es átono.

(5, b) La preposición a y las conjunciones e, o, u, no llevando acento prosódico, tampoco deben llevarlo escrito. No obstante, lo llevará escrito la conjunción o cuando, por hallarse inmediata a cifras, pudiera confundirse con el cero: 3 ó 4.

Por costumbre se acentúa la palabra sólo cuando es adverbio, y no si es sustantivo o adjetivo.

(3, 4) La mayor acentuación prosódica que en la cláusula toman determinadas voces cuando se emplean, ya separadas de aquéllas a quienes se refieren, ya con énfasis, ya en tono interrogativo o admirativo, pide acento ortográfico también, innecesario por regla general en las mismas palabras.

(7, a) Los tiempos de verbo que llevan acento ortográfico, le conservan aun cuando acrecientan su terminación tomando un afijo.

(8) Los dos elementos de las voces compuestas conservan su acentuación prosódica, y deben llevar la ortográfica que como simples les corresponda.

Los términos latinos o de otras lenguas usados en la nuestra, y los nombres propios extranjeros, se acentuarán con sujeción a las leyes prosódicas para las dicciones castellanas: memorándum, Amiéns, Schúbert, Wíndsor.»

10. Sílabas. Una sílaba consta de una vocal sola, de dos o más vocales que forman diptongo o triptongo, o de una o más vocales acompañadas de consonantes. Para la exacta división de las sílabas conviene saber que, si hay una consonante entre dos vocales, se une para formar sílaba con la vocal que la sigue.

11. Puntuación. En castellano se usan en la escritura algunos signos de puntuación de un modo distinto del inglés.

1. Los signos de interrogación y de admiración se colocan al principio y al fin de la cláusula. El signo de principio de interrogación o de admiración se ha de poner donde empieza la pregunta o el sentido admirativo: Dígame, ¿cuál me dió estas flores?

2. Los puntos suspensivos denotan que la cláusula está incompleta, o el sentido suspenso.

3. La raya se emplea en los diálogos.

12. Letras Mayúsculas y Minúsculas. Se escriben con letra mayúscula la primera palabra de un escrito y la que vaya después de punto final; los nombres propios y de dignidad; los atributos divinos; los nombres en un título de una obra literaria, pero no se observa esta regla si el título es largo; la numeración romana; las abreviaturas de don, de usted, y de otros tratamientos.

00. Las Partes de la Oración se llaman nombre sustantivo, nombre adjetivo, pronombre, artículo, verbo, participio, adverbio, preposición, conjunción e interjección. El nombre sustantivo puede llamarse únicamente nombre o sustantivo; también el nombre adjetivo puede llamarse únicamente adjetivo. La oración gramatical consta de sujeto, verbo y complemento.

14. Terminaciones personales. Las personas son tres en el número singular y tres en el plural. La segunda persona se usa cuando los padres hablan con sus hijos o se hablan los amigos íntimos. Cuando se dirige la palabra a aquéllos a quienes no se debe tutear, hay que emplear usted, en plural ustedes, voces que rigen al verbo en tercera persona.

15. Conjugación. Hay en castellano tres conjugaciones del verbo según las terminaciones del infinitivo, -ar, -er, -ir. El infinitivo es el modo que anuncia la idea en abstracto del verbo sin expresar número ni persona. Las letras que preceden a la terminación se llaman radicales o raíz.

16. Modos y Tiempos. Se llaman modos las distintas maneras de manifestarse la significación del verbo. Los modos son cuatro : infinitivo, indicativo, subjuntivo e imperativo. El modo indicativo expresa la significación del verbo como real, sea afirmativo, negativo, interrogativo, admirativo.

El tiempo es la división de la conjugación que denota el tiempo en que sucede la acción del verbo, sea presente, pretérito o futuro.

17. La forma interrogativa. En preguntas por lo común el sujeto va pospuesto al verbo. El signo de interrogación se pone al principio y al fin de la cláusula.

18. La forma negativa. El adverbio de negación se antepone al verbo.

20. (129.) Género. El género indica el sexo de las personas y de los animales, ya sea masculino, ya femenino. Son del género masculino los nombres de varones y de animales machos, los que significan empleos propios de varones y los terminados en o. Son del género femenino los nombres de mujeres, de animales hembras y la mayor parte de los terminados en a. (De éstos se exceptúan los nombres de origen griego.)

21. El artículo es la parte de la oración que se antepone al nombre y lo determina. Hay dos en castellano, el artículo determinado (definido) y el artículo indeterminado (indefinido). Las formas del artículo determinado son de los géneros masculino, femenino y neutro. El neutro no tiene plural y se usa con el adjetivo cuando significa lo genérico y lo abstracto.

22. Número de los nombres. El plural de los nombres que acaban en vocal no acentuada se forma añadiendo una s al singular; los que terminan en consonante o vocal acentuada reciben en el plural la sílaba es.

25. El verbo ser expresa la esencia y la existencia, y también las condiciones propias de personas y cosas. Se emplea el verbo estar para significar la situación o disposición de las cosas.

26. 1. El artículo indeterminado (indefinido) no se emplea por lo común con los sustantivos que son términos del verbo ser.

2. (124.) El artículo determinado (definido) se emplea con los sustantivos abstractos y los genéricos que designan la totalidad de un género de cosas. Los nombres de unas regiones, provincias, países, ríos llevan el artículo, así como los epítetos como señor, general, etc., a menos que no se dirija la palabra a los individuos.

3. También se usa el artículo con los adjetivos de nacionalidad, con alguna excepción cuando éstos designan el idioma.

27. Concordancia. El artículo y el adjetivo concuerdan con el sustantivo en género, número y caso.

28. Género de adjetivos. Los adjetivos acabados en o tienen esta terminación para el género masculino y para el género neutro y la terminación en a para el género femenino. También admiten la terminación en a los adjetivos acabados en án, ón, or (salvo los que son comparativos), ete, ote; y los que significan nacionalidad. Los demás adjetivos son de una sola terminación para todos los géneros.

30. El plural de los adjetivos se forma de la misma manera que el de los sustantivos.

33. Caso genitivo. Para denotar la relación de posesión se emplea el caso genitivo que lleva antepuesta la preposición de.

34. Demostrativos. Aplícase este a lo que está cerca de la persona que habla; ese a lo que está cerca de la persona a quien se habla; y aquel a lo que está lejos de una y otra. Cuando los demostrativos hacen oficios de pronombres llevan acento ortográfico.

36. Pronombres personales. Las más veces se omiten los pronombres personales en la conjugación, pero se emplean cuando no hay verbo y para dar énfasis a la persona.

37. Posesivos. Siendo adjetivos, los posesivos concuerdan con los sustantivos en género y número.

39. Numerales cardinales son los que sirven para contar.

Los números uno y ciento se transforman en un y cien cuando se anteponen a los sustantivos.

40. Ordinales son los adjetivos que expresan número con idea de orden o sucesión. Para expresar la fecha se emplean los cardinales salvo el primero del mes.

46. Apócope. Algunos adjetivos pierden la última vocal cuando se anteponen al nombre sustantivo en el masculino del singular; grande pierde la última sílaba cuando se antepone a un sustantivo ya masculino ya femenino.

47. Comparación. Los adjetivos comparativos se forman anteponiendo a los positivos los adverbios más o menos. (146.) El superlativo absoluto se forma añadiendo al positivo la terminación -ísimo, que es equivalente al adverbio muy.

48. Algunos adjetivos son de por sí comparativos, sin adición de más ni menos; éstos se derivan del latín.

49. La partícula que debe preceder al segundo término de la comparación, pero se convierte en de cuando éste expresa una idea de cantidad. En las oraciones negativas es más corriente la partícula que.

50. Comparación de igualdad. Si el primer término es un nombre y lo precede tanto, debe corresponderle como. Tanto pierde la última sílaba siempre que precede a un adjetivo o a un adverbio.

51. El adjetivo que se refiere a nombres de números diversos va en plural; y en la terminación masculina si los nombres son de diversos géneros.

52. Colocación de adjetivos. El adjetivo suele preceder al sustantivo cuando significa una calidad propia del objeto y posponerse si denota alguna circunstancia accidental o que no es de la esencia de la cosa. (139, 5.) Hay adjetivos que tienen una diferencia de sentido, en razón de estar el adjetivo antes o después del sustantivo. (139, 4.) Ciertos adjetivos no pueden ir pospuestos al sustantivo.

54. Verbos que cambían la vocal radical. Muchos verbos mudan la e radical en ie, la o en ue. Algunos verbos de la tercera conjugación cambían la e en i. Esta irregularidad de conjugación se encuentra en la sílaba acentuada.

55. El Infinitivo. Algunos verbos rigen a otros verbos en infinitivo haciéndolos complemento directo o los rigen por medio de preposiciones.

56. Objeto indirecto es la persona o cosa a que se aplica la significación del verbo sin que sea objeto directo de ella. Va precedido de la preposición a.

57. (134.) Objeto directo. Empléase la preposición a delante del objeto directo del verbo cuando es nombre que significa persona definida, nombre propio de lugar que no va precedido de artículo, algunos pronombres, y cuando sin la preposición a pueda ser ambigua la locución.

59. Verbos Reflexivos. Aquel verbo es reflexivo cuya acción vuelve a la misma persona o cosa que le rige.

61. El castellano da al verbo un sentido pasivo por medio de la forma reflexiva.

63. Pretérito Perfecto. El pretérito se refiere a un tiempo pasado cuando los hechos se consideran como totalmente pasados. Téngase presentes los cambios ortográficos en la conjugación de este tiempo.

65. Pretérito Imperfecto. Este tiempo indica que la acción pasada del verbo coincidía con otra acción ya pasada. Empléase para denotar ocupaciones y costumbres habituales.

67. Participios. En castellano el gerundio en -ando y -iendo hace las veces del participio presente de inglés. El participio presente en -ante y -ente sirve para adjetivo. Del participio pasivo o pretérito se forman los tiempos compuestos con el verbo auxiliar haber.

68. El Gerundio denota condición, causa o circunstancia de modo y de tiempo.

69. El Participio Pasivo o pretérito hace el oficio de adjetivo además de emplearse en la formación de los tiempos compuestos del verbo.

70. El Pretérito Perfecto Compuesto se forma del presente de haber con el participio pasivo del verbo.

71. El Pretérito Pluscuamperfecto se forma del pretérito imperfecto del verbo auxiliar con el participio pasivo del verbo.

72. Las partes de los tiempos compuestos del verbo no admiten adverbio entre ellas.

73. El Pretérito Perfecto Compuesto se usa cuando el hecho pasado se considera como aún subsistente en sus resultados o como ocurrido en un período de tiempo que no se considera terminado todavía.

74. Muchos verbos castellanos van seguidos de una preposición.

75. Los Pronombres Relativos que, quien (quienes) se refieren a otras palabras en la oración que se llaman antecedentes. Quien corresponde sólo a un antecedente que significa persona.

76. El Futuro indica una acción venidera, lo que será o sucederá.

77. Condicional. Llámase en castellano esta forma del verbo la segunda forma del pretérito imperfecto de subjuntivo. Cuando se emplea este tiempo existe por lo común una condición en la misma oración. También se usa el condicional como un pretérito del futuro.

81. Los Pronombres Personales, cuando están en acusativo o dativo, preceden al verbo por regla general, pero se posponen al infinitivo, al gerundio y al imperativo uniéndose con ellos como enclíticos; y entonces se llaman afijos. Los pronombres enclíticos carecen de acento.

82. Los pronombres regidos de preposición se usan para dar énfasis a la oración.

83. Adverbios de modo se forman agregando mente al femenino del adjetivo.

87. El Modo Imperativo significa mando o súplica. No tiene más personas que las segundas de singular y plural; y no puede usarse con la negación cuando el imperativo es prohibitivo. Se toma el imperativo de tercera persona del presente de subjuntivo.

100. El Modo Infinitivo se emplea cuando el verbo es complemento directo de otro verbo, las más veces con preposición. Algunos verbos rigen al gerundio.

101. Los verbos que significan acción, movimiento, tendencia rigen a otros con la preposición a.

104. El infinitivo regido de otro verbo tiene generalmente el mismo sujeto que los verbos regentes. Si el agente no es uno mismo para los dos, el segundo va en subjuntivo.

105. El infinitivo hace las veces de sustantivo masculino del número singular, llevando generalmente el artículo, o el adjetivo posesivo o demostrativo.

109. El Modo Subjuntivo toma el nombre de que todas las frases de sus tiempos están determinadas por un verbo de los otros modos con el que las enlaza alguna conjunción. Los verbos que se refieren a los actos de la voluntad y los que significan temor o alegría exigen que se ponga el verbo regido en subjuntivo. (278.) También piden el verbo en subjuntivo las cláusulas que indican algo indeterminado, sean condicionales, finales o relativas.

112. Cuando la conjunción si precede a una oración que expresa duda, el verbo regido puede usarse en indicativo; pero si la oración expresa una condición irrealizable, el verbo va en el pretérito imperfecto de subjuntivo de las terminaciones -ra y -se.

NOTE. The Spanish nomenclature of the verb is so confusing to an American student that in some respects it is not good practice to follow it. Its peculiarities will be clear from the following synopsis of the verb amar, taken from the grammar of the Spanish Academy. The most confusing features are found in the tenses called pretérito perfecto de indicativo, because not only are compound (compuesto) forms grouped with a simple form but the two compound forms must be distinguished as first and second. Likewise the pretérito imperfecto de subjuntivo and the pretérito pluscuamperfecto de subjuntivo include three forms, each of which must be distinguished by numerals; moreover, the form which is commonly termed conditional in other languages is here given as the second form. The forms of the subjunctive used as imperative are considered as forms of the imperative mood.
